Cheer Attack on Bill

Detroit, Mich., March 2 [Special].—Five thousand persons cheered in Masonic temple today when Senator Gerald P. Nye [R., N. D.] called the dictator bill "the most unheard of grab for power ever undertaken in American history."

"Our going to war will follow within a few weeks, at the most, the passage of this bill," the senator warned. He urged his listeners to make themselves heard in Washington, D. C.

When Senator Nye charged that British leaders want "American blood spilled on European battlefields," shouts of "Filibuster!" "Impeach the President!" "Stop that bill!" came from the audience.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 2.—While the senate is debating the dictatorship bill, which would authorize the President to carry on the war against Germany, Italy, and Japan, cloakroom gossip is busy with the ultimate war objectives of the Roosevelt administration and of the Churchill ministry in Great Britain.

Senator Norris backs amendment.

According to the information percolating from the ranks of the New Dealers, the grand objective is a reconstructed political and economic world dominated by the United States and Great Britain, possibly united into a supercommonwealth of English speaking nations. The economy of the reconstructed world would be a sort of international New Deal, with Mr. Roosevelt its prophet.

Lurks in Background.

This objective, which calls for the decisive defeat of Hitler and Mussolini and a peace dictated by the United States and Great Britain, will lurk in the background of the debate on the dictatorship bill in the senate this week, particularly the discussion of the Ellender amendment.

According to the opposition to the bill, the annihilation of Hitler and Mussolini will require the reinforcement of Great Britain with an American expeditionary force of about 3 million men. Seeking to prevent American armed intervention in a foreign war, the opposition will support the Ellender amendment declaring that the bill does not authorize the dispatch of American forces outside of the western hemisphere except to American possessions. Contrary to the spirit of such an amendment would be the dispatch of our navy to Singapore or our army to Europe.

Surprise from Norris.

Unexpected support came today from Senator George W. Norris [Ind., Neb.], an administration supporter, for the Ellender amendment.

"I think that an amendment of that kind would allay the fears of a great many people that this is a war bill," Norris told reporters. "We don't intend to send our boys across the ocean and I don't think it would hurt us to say so in this bill."

The administration will seek the defeat of the Ellender amendment, contending that it cannot deprive the President of his constitutional power as commander in chief of the army and navy to send armed forces wherever he deems necessary for the protection of American interests, but that its adoption would reassure the dictators that Britain would not receive effective military aid from the United States.

Final Vote Nears.

Consideration of this and numerous other amendments probably will consume all this week, with the final vote on the bill due next week. Popular opposition to the measure is steadily increasing, but the indications are that it will be passed with

Nab Hundreds in Delaware's Blue Law Drive

Wilmington, Del., March 2 [Special].—More than 500 persons were arrested for "breaking the Sabbath" thruout Delaware today as police enforced the state's blue laws, which date back 200 years. The number of arrests may reach 1,000.

The decision to enforce the ancient statute followed an adverse vote in the state house of representatives on Thursday against a proposed liberal Sunday law providing for local option. State Attorney General James Morford said he regarded the vote as a "mandate for enforcement."

"The law must be enforced 100 per cent or not at all," he added. "I regret that embarrassment and hardship will result to many people. This matter is entirely out of my hands. The only solution is with the general assembly."

Variety of Arrests.

Among those arrested were bus drivers, street car motormen, newsboys, restaurant owners, milkmen, drug store clerks, candy shop proprietors, and even a picket who was marching in front of a Wilmington hotel. All will appear for a magistrate's hearing tomorrow when they may be fined or jailed.

All commercial vehicles bearing Delaware license plates were stopped, but interstate trucks and buses were not molested.

Under the law all persons engaged in "worldly employment" in this state of 266,500 population are subject to arrest. Peddlers or truck drivers are liable to $8 fine and costs or 24 hours in jail; persons playing games of any kind are liable to fines of $4 and costs or 24 hours in jail; persons who dance are liable to $4 fine and costs or 24 hours in jail.

Mustn't Shovel Snow.

If a man feels like doing "worldly labor" around his house, such as shoveling snow, repairing doors, or fixing his auto, he is also liable to arrest.

In one place the store of a legislator who voted against repeal of the blue law was open and doing business. Morford was bitter about the Rev. Albert H. Kleffman, Wilmington pastor and president of the Lord's Day alliance of Delaware-Maryland, who had opposed changing the law. The attorney general charged that the pastor was an "accomplice" in violating the laws by broadcasting his morning sermon.

CAPT. RICKENBACKER IS IMPROVING AFTER BLOOD TRANSFUSION

Atlanta, Ga., March 2 [Special].—Capt. Edward V. Rickenbacker was placed in an oxygen tent and given a blood transfusion today to aid his "fair chance" of recovery from multiple injuries incurred in the crash of an Eastern Airlines sleeper plane near here last Thursday.

Dr. Floyd McRae, Rickenbacker's chief physician, who knew the famous flyer when he was leading his world war squadron in France, said the air line executive "has a fair chance—if we can keep him quiet."

Late tonight Dr. McRae said his patient "is a little better. He is resting more quietly and has taken some nourishment. The captain has been placed in an oxygen tent to ease the strain of breathing with broken ribs. His temperature and pulse are as good as they were yesterday."

The blood transfusion was ordered by a brain specialist, Dr. Edward Fincher.

"The transfusion was given," Dr. Fincher said, "because Capt. Rickenbacker's red corpuscle count was low in a test made this morning. It also was given as a general supportive measure because of the prolonged state of shock. He had no skull fracture and there has been no hemorrhage."

CALL FOR STRIKE OF 5,000 WORKERS ON ARMY PROJECT

Wilmington, N. C., March 2 (AP).—A labor official announced after a union meeting of several thousand workers here tonight that 5,000 workers at Camp Davis, the army's $15,000,000 antiaircraft firing range at Hollyridge, would go on strike tomorrow morning.

L. H. Rouse, business agent for the Wilmington building trades council [A. F. of L.], said all crafts—carpenters, electricians, blazers, boiler makers, etc.—would strike. He asserted the council had asked for a preferential shop, requiring vacancies to be filled preferably with union men, but the contractors refused the request. The unions also seek time and a half for overtime and double pay for Sundays and holidays.

A spokesman for the contractors said the strike call was the result of outside agitators aimed at "racketeering" thru collection of union fees.

The project, 29 miles north of here, is being rushed toward completion, scheduled for late this month.

Draftee Goes Into Mexico; Can't Get Back

El Paso, Tex., March 2 [Special].—Private Henry J. Wolfstein, Battery C, 202d coast artillery, an antiaircraft regiment from Chicago, is absent without leave tonight and staying in a Juarez, Mexico, hotel, but he isn't worrying about a summary court martial or even company punishment.

Private Wolfstein is in Mexico because he can't get back into the United States after a sightseeing trip which started yesterday afternoon and was to have ended before the international bridge was closed today.

The reason for Private Wolfstein's predicament is his birth in Kassel, Germany, 21 years ago and the fact that he is not an American citizen, altho he has made application in Chicago for citizenship.

In Civilian Clothes.

Soldiers in training in Fort Bliss, near here, have leave from noon Saturday until Sunday night and may remain away from the post. Wolfstein, wearing the civilian clothes required for a visit to Mexico, went sightseeing yesterday with a party from his battery.

All had identification cards bearing their pictures, descriptions, and signed by the battery commander. None except Wolfstein was stopped upon their attempt to reënter the United States. Wolfstein was halted because of his accent.

Tomorrow immigration authorities in New York will check the circumstances of his arrival there from Germany. If his entry is found to have been legal, army and consular officials here will take steps to have him returned to duty in Fort Bliss.

The Soldier's Story.

In Juarez tonight Wolfstein explained that he and a sister, Ruth, fled from Germany because of their Jewish ancestry. He came to the United States in January, 1939, on a passport good for a year and a half. His sister went to Italy, where later she was interned. Their parents remained in Germany.

Wolfstein went directly from New York to Chicago and lived with his cousin, Alvin V. Werther, 1121 East 54th street, and found a job as a machinist. He was drafted by Board No. 9, 5th ward, Jan. 6, accepted at Fort Sheridan, and two weeks later sent to Fort Bliss.

ANKARA MOVES FLEET TO GUARD VITAL STRAITS

Shipping Must Have Special Permits.

(Maps on back page.)

ISTANBUL, Turkey, March 2 (AP).—The Turkish navy ministry announced tonight that the strategic Dardanelles straits had been closed to all ships except those having special permits and employing Turkish naval pilots. The ruling went into effect tonight.

Units of the Turkish fleet, it was learned at the same time, steamed out of Istanbul toward the Dardanelles today.

No explanation was offered immediately for Turkey's action. Presumably, however, it is a counteraction to Saturday's developments which put Bulgaria solidly in the axis orbit and opened the Bulgarian frontier to Germany's legions.

[The Dardanelles and the Bosporus are of high military significance because they are the gates between the Mediterranean sea and the Black sea. The Dardanelles are the western gate, linking the Aegean sea and the Sea of Marmora. On the east the Bosporus joins the Sea of Marmora and the Black sea. Turkish territory surrounds the Dardanelles, Sea of Marmora, and the Bosporus.]

Asked to Mediate War.

It was learned on reliable authority today that Germany asked Turkey to offer to mediate the European war during the recent visit in this country of British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden. The British, however, flatly refused to consider mediation when sounded out by Turkey, this source said.

A well informed source said that German Ambassador Franz von Papen approached Turkish Foreign Minister Sukru Saracoglu on the subject before Eden's arrival last week, declaring that Turkey was in a most favorable position to act as mediator.

[Authorized sources in Berlin ridiculed the report and repeated the stock answer, "It is not for the winner to suggest peace."]

It was a week-end busy with diplomatic activity in Ankara with President Ismet Inonu keeping in close touch with his cabinet. The cabinet, with Inonu presiding, held an extraordinary session from late Friday night to the early hours of Saturday morning, presumably considering Bulgaria's new membership in the axis three power pact.

"Ready if War Comes."

Turkey is linked with Bulgaria in a two weeks old treaty of nonaggression and with Britain in a pledge of mutual assistance in the event of an act of "aggression" leading to war in the Mediterranean.

Saracoglu received Von Papen yesterday and observers said Turkey seemed to be keeping an attitude of watchful waiting. The government newspaper Ulus restated Turkey's stand, that she wants peace "but if war comes we are ready."

The officially controled Turkish press unanimously demanded an explanation from Bulgaria for signing up with the axis and the newspaper Aksam declared flatly that "the Bulgarians' action was contrary to the Turko-Bulgar declaration."

HITLER'S ENVOY SEES BELGRADE REGENT ON PACT

ZAGREB, Jugo-Slavia, March 2 (AP).—The probability that Jugo-Slavia soon will sign the axis pact was reported in authoritative quarters tonight. These sources said this resulted from conferences between Prince Paul, the Jugo-Slav regent, and Viktor von Heeren, German minister to Belgrade.

Scarcely had Bulgaria entered the Berlin-Rome-Tokio alliance yesterday, they said, than Von Heeren requested a special audience. He was said to have been received last night.

Favorable "Consideration."

Authoritative sources said Von Heeren "informed" Prince Paul that his conversations last week with German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop concerned Jugo-Slavia's position in the Nazi plans for a new European order. Von Heeren was said to have asked what Jugo-Slavia's attitude would be toward a "formal invitation" to join the axis.

"Altho there was no definite answer given by Prince Paul," said these authoritative sources, "Von Heeren was assured that such a development was likely to be 'considered' favorably by the Jugo-Slav government in the near future."

Report British Bomb Rumania.

NEGOTIN, Jugo-Slavia [At the Rumanian and Bulgarian frontiers], March 2 (AP).—The R. A. F. was reported today to have carried the European war to Rumania—making good Britain's threat to bomb Rumania's rich oil fields and communications lines if Nazi troops invaded Bulgaria.

The reports reaching here from Rumania said heavy explosions occurred in the Ploesti fields, north of Bucharest, added that big fires were started, and attributed the damage to R. A. F. planes. The advices also said that all foreigners and Rumanians, save those with military passes, had been barred from the oil field region.

[Air force circles in London declined to comment on reports of the bombing.]

Fleets of Planes Seen.

Early today several fleets of unidentified planes flew high over Negotin in the direction of the Ploesti fields.

Jugo-Slav antiaircraft batteries opened fire against another unidentified squadron which crossed the Danube river at the historic Iron Gates, strategic key to Danube river navigation, close to the town of Orsova, Rumania, north of here.

A wrecked heavy German Junkers plane with the charred bodies of four men was found in the woods at Derventa, Bosnia.

VICHY MAY DROP TRIAL OF THREE FORMER PREMIERS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VICHY, France, March 2.—Charles Pomaret, former minister of the interior; Senator A. Schrameck, and some others who had been held for the trial of former ministers and public servants at Riom, have been released, it was disclosed today.

There appears to be increasing doubt that the Riom court ever will try Edouard Daladier, Leon Blum, and Paul Reynaud, former premiers, and Gen. Gustave Gamelin, former commander of the allied armies. Reynaud's lawyer had an interview with Chief of State Marshal Petain last week.

ANOTHER HITLER ARMY IS RUSHING TOWARD TURKEY

SOFIA, Bulgaria, March 3, Monday (AP).—The vanguard of Germany's onrushing Balkan army, speeding across Bulgaria from bases in Rumania, was reported to have reached the Greek frontier at four points early today. The Germans also sped toward the Turkish frontier. Two trainloads of infantrymen were dispatched from Plovdiv, Bulgaria's second largest city, toward the Turk border. Other troops were said to be rolling into Plovdiv.

Reports from the provinces said small Nazi detachments had taken up quarters in the Bulgarian towns of Slatograd, Melnik, Trigrad, and Svilengrad, a few miles short of the Greek frontier.

Air raid defense precautions went steadily ahead thruout Bulgaria, which had no sooner joined the Rome-Berlin-Tokio alliance in Vienna Saturday than German troops started rolling across her frontier.

Protect Railroad Stations.

Antiaircraft batteries were installed on all large railway stations as well as important bridges and tunnels. Altho official orders were not given, many citizens of Sofia began leaving the city for the country.

Queen Ioanna, daughter of King Victor Emanuel of Italy, and Crown Prince Simeon and Princess Marie Louise left for the country palace.

These precautions were rushed as British quarters in Sofia declared that Minister George W. Rendel had informed King Boris that Britain would break off relations with Bulgaria "probably Tuesday" and that a state of war would "undoubtedly follow."

Rendel and King Boris were alone for two hours last night, talking in the monarch's study only a few hours after the Bulgarian parliament had ratified this kingdom's allegiance to the three power pact.

A "Friendly Conversation."

Thru the windows of the study the two men could see German armored cars, troops, and trucks rolling thru Sofia's main streets. The conversation was described as very friendly. The king had met the tall, stooped British minister on the steps of the ancient frame palace in the center of the capital and then escorted him into the study.

Rendel was understood to have expressed regret that Bulgaria had signed the axis pact and opened the country to German armies, since the British had to resist the German march and Bulgaria might become a battleground. King Boris was understood to have replied that he had chosen the course which he believed best for his people.

The first British diplomats to depart from Sofia left yesterday morning by automobile for Belgrade, Jugo-Slavia.

Cheers Last 58 Seconds.

The Bulgarian parliament voted its approval of entry into the axis as German soldiers crowded the streets outside. The cheering that accompanied the vote lasted 58 seconds.

About a score of the 150 members opposed confirmation of the pact. Five opposition members who demanded debate on the question were shouted down. They continued their criticism, however, despite the continual ringing of a brass gong by the speaker, and parliament adjourned with some of the members still waving their arms and trying to make themselves heard.

The vote was taken after Premier Bogdan Philov told the parliament that Bulgaria had been forced by "pressure of events" to throw herself into the arms of the axis.

Peace of the Balkans.

Even while negotiations were under way, Germany requested permission for her troops to enter Bulgaria, he said. Germany declared, Philov said, that "its task temporarily aims at safeguarding the peace of the Balkans."

The loudest applause came when the president of the assembly said the pact would not jeopardize Bulgarian friendship with soviet Russia.

REPORT WAR AIM OF PRESIDENT IS WORLD NEW DEAL

Capitol Cloakrooms Buzz with Conjecture.

not more than 35 of the present 95 senators against it.

Both Mr. Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill have been the targets for several weeks of demands that they state their war aims. The closest approach by the British government to satisfaction of these demands was the statement of the undersecretary for foreign affairs, R. A. Butler, that "in a cause of this kind for which we are fighting, a cause in no way connected with territory, trade, or material gains, but affecting the whole future of humanity, there can be no question of compromise or parley."

Thus, while disclaiming territorial or other compensation, the British refuse to consider any but a dictated peace.

When the question was put to Mr. Roosevelt at a press conference he replied that British war aims and terms of peace for Europe are things to be discussed only after Germany has suffered a military defeat. The first thing to do is to win the war, said the President.

According to the New Dealers, the first objective is to defeat Hitler and Mussolini and dictate the terms of peace. These terms, as they visualize the proposition, will not be so onerous as those of the Versailles treaty but will be designed to prevent by other means another world war.

The Lothian Thesis.

In essence, the objective will be an arrangement whereby the United States and Great Britain virtually will underwrite the preservation of world peace thru domination of the world by their joint sea power, air power, and land power. This would be a realization of the thesis of the late British ambassador, Lord Lothian, that the two English speaking powers can maintain the peace of the world thru control of the Atlantic ocean by England and control of the Pacific by America. Mr. Roosevelt's foreign policy, as manifested particularly in the Pacific region, has long been recognized as an acceptance of this thesis.

The dictator bill, as the New Dealers view it, will establish a military alliance of Britain and America which will continue after war. It will be cloaked by an international organization of nations which may take one of several forms. It might be a remodeled league of nations, such as Mr. Roosevelt never has ceased to favor and only disavowed momentarily in his first candidacy for the Presidency. It might be a federation of European states drafted on the lines of the American Union. In either event, England and America would furnish the international police force to keep the peace.

Morley Hails Roosevelt.

At least one eminent internationalist, formerly identified with the league of nations, Felix Morley, has acclaimed the astuteness of the President in obtaining in advance in the dictatorship bill by majority vote of congress the power to organize world peace that Woodrow Wilson failed to get—because he could not muster after the event a two-thirds vote of the senate for the league of nations covenant.

The Anglo-American alliance is regarded by many New Dealers as a prelude to a world state, the nucleus of which would be a union of the United States, Great Britain, and the British dominions. This would be a union of democracies to which other democracies would be admitted whenever deemed qualified. A plan of this sort, promoted by Clarence Streit, and called "Union Now," has received much support in England and America. President and Mrs. Roosevelt have evinced interest by calling Mr. Streit into conference on the subject.

No end of gossip revolves around the missions of Harry Hopkins and John G. Winant to Great Britain. Hopkins, ardent New Dealer and close confidant of the President, was sent to England to convey Mr. Roosevelt's innermost thoughts not only to Prime Minister Churchill, but also, it is whispered, to Ernest Bevin, minister of labor, the leader who would succeed Churchill if the Churchill ministry should fall. Winant is the new American ambassador to England.

CALLS ON K. OF C. FOR MILLION WAR BILL PROTESTS

Notre Dame Educator Says Act Perils U. S.

Passage of the President's war dictatorship bill would remove the last remaining brake upon the administration's determination to plunge the United States into war, the Rev. Dr. John A. O'Brien, professor in the graduate school of Notre Dame university, declared here yesterday.

"Unless American fathers and mothers thunder their protests to Washington," Dr. O'Brien said, "their sons may be the tragic victims of the worst catastrophe in the world's history."

He spoke at a forum sponsored by Thomas Aquinas council of the Knights of Columbus in Mercy High school, 8100 Indiana avenue.

Calls for Million Protests.

Dr. O'Brien called upon Knights of Columbus thruout the nation, "acting neither as Republicans nor Democrats but as followers of the Prince of Peace," to deluge the President and congress with a million telegrams demanding defeat of the war measure.

"That bill [H. R. 1776]," he declared, "will reduce congress to a rubber stamp and place the power of life or death over 130 million people in the hands of one war-minded man.

"If congress passes that bill to end American democracy, and places the sentence of death on millions of American boys, its members should be recalled by our outraged citizenry as guilty of the worst betrayal of a nation in all history."

The present administration seems more concerned about saving the British empire than saving America, Dr. O'Brien asserted.

Resents "Aspersion" on U. S.

"It is an aspersion on the American people to say that we can find our safety only by cowering behind the skirts of the British navy," he continued. "We have ample resources to build an impregnable defense if we will use them for that purpose instead of sending them abroad."

Pointing to what he termed the inconsistency of the Roosevelt administration, Dr. O'Brien said:

"Before the election we were given the solemn assurance that we would not be led into a foreign war. Now we are told that we must underwrite a smashing British victory. This can be achieved, if at all, only by an American army invading Europe, and conquering Germany, Italy, and their allies on the continent and Japan in the orient. This means the impoverishment of America, the destruction of our civilization and the maiming and killing of millions of American boys in Europe, Asia, and Africa. And for what? Britain refuses to disclose her war aims."

15 MORE CHICAGO MOTHERS OFF TO FIGHT WAR BILL

Fifteen more mothers left Chicago by bus for Washington, D. C., yesterday to join hundreds of others now in the capital protesting against the war dictatorship bill as a measure which, if passed, would bring death to their sons on foreign battlefields.

Despite demands by Senator Carter Glass [D., Va.] for an inquiry by the Federal Bureau of Investigation of the mothers' march on Washington, additional contingents of Chicago mothers will leave this week, officials of the sponsoring group, "We, the Mothers, Mobilize for America," announced.

Mrs. Barbara Cyburt, 4200 North Kilpatrick avenue, mother of two sons of draft age, returned from the capital yesterday and told officials of the organization that the mothers were gaining new converts in the senate every day.

"We are doing a lot of good," she said. "If more mothers keep going to Washington, there's a good chance to kill the dictator bill."

One of the mothers who left for Washington yesterday was Mrs. Kathryn G. Watson of Cassopolis, Mich., who said she drove to Chicago to join the delegation after reports of the mothers' march. She arrived here too late to leave with the others, however, so she took a train.

SEEK ATTACKER OF WOMAN.

Police searched yesterday for a man, believed to be colored, who attacked a woman employé of St. Luke's hospital in an alley near 13th street and Indiana avenue.

400 Japs Reported Killed as Train Hits Chinese Mines

HONGKONG, March 2 (AP).—The Chinese Central News agency today reported that more than 400 Japanese officers and men were killed Feb. 25 when a troop train struck Chinese land mines on the Canton-Hankow railway, near Liaoping.

STUDY DICTATOR AMENDMENT TO BAR CENSORSHIP

Lawmakers Are Warned of Dangers in Bill.

BY WILLIAM STRAND.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 2.—Congressional leaders are studying a proposal for an amendment to the Roosevelt dictator bill which specifically would prohibit government censorship of the press or radio.

Carl W. Ackerman.

The proposal for the amendment was made by Carl W. Ackerman, dean of the Columbia university school of journalism, who warned congressmen that the term "defense information" used in the bill and the definition of a defense article as any "facility" clearly would permit the administration to mobilize the press and radio for propaganda purposes thru use of the broad powers which the bill would grant the President.

Ackerman also sent his warning to John S. McCarrens of Cleveland, president of the American Newspaper Publishers' association, and to Tom Wallace of Louisville, Ky., president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

Cites European Examples.

"May I respectfully request your consideration of an amendment to H. R. 1776 specifically prohibiting the establishment of a governmental censorship of the press, radio, forum, pulpit, classroom, or any other facility or instrumentality of communication which will interfere with the free discussion of the issues of war or peace?" the telegrams said.

"In every country now at war, the governments have established censorship, or control and direction of public information. While I recognize that our government in time of war should establish and maintain censorship at the source of all military and naval information that is of advantage to an enemy for military purpose, we have the experience of all belligerent countries to prove that the centralization of power is followed by censorships or restrictions and official intimidations which suppress freedom of public expression or compel uniformity of public opinion.

Finds Power Unwarranted.

"Unless H. R. 1776 is amended, the congress of the United States for all practical purposes will confer upon the President the authority to establish a censorship of news and opinion that exceeds any defense need.

"In this extreme national emergency, when our government is preparing to defend democracy by aiding or participating in war, it is time for congress to be vigilant and safeguard specifically the privilege and duty of all citizens of exercising the right of freedom of expression.

"We need a positive assurance, not a negative assumption, that there will be no censorship. The American people are entitled to this reassurance as are the peoples of Latin America who may know by our example that we are not destroying our political, intellectual, and cultural liberties in advance of a war to save them."

CONGRESSMAN IS MAKING HIS OWN ARMS INSPECTION

Washington, D. C., March 2 (AP).—While other legislators wrangle over whether to investigate the military program, a one-man congressional inspection of army cantonments already is in progress. It is being conducted by Representative Albert Engel [R., Mich.], a world war army officer with a penchant for statistics.

Spurning a war department offer to assign an army officer to facilitate his inspection, Engel set out in his own car 10 days ago for cantonments being established in the south. He traveled about 2,200 miles, visited six army camps, and spent about a day at each. Engel, who so far won't discuss his findings, said he intended to make a report to the house appropriations committee after he does some more touring.

One of his fellow committeemen told of seeing him in action at Fort Bragg, N. C. "He had four generals backed into a corner, peppering them with questions," the legislator recounted.

Sign America First Petition

Four generations of the Gridley family signed a petition protesting passage of the President's war powers bill yesterday. They met at the home of Mrs. Eleanor Gridley, 94 years old, at 7156 Euclid avenue.

Mrs. Gridley signed first, then her daughter, Mrs. Queen G. Thomas; her granddaughter, Mrs. Frank M. Wright; and her great-grandson, Frank M. Wright Jr.

Mrs. Gridley, author of "Abraham Lincoln from Log Cabin to White House," said she believes she is the only person living who attended the Jackson, Mich., meeting which marked the birth of the Republican party.

NAB BANK TELLER 19 YEARS AFTER THEFT OF $42,500

Jersey City, N. J., March 2 [Special].—On a warm August day 19 years ago, Harry J. Mullin, teller of the now defunct New Jersey Title Guarantee and Trust company, in Jersey City, announced he was going to Coney Island for a swim. He went—and $42,500 of the bank's cash went with him, it was charged.

Late that evening the owner of a Coney Island bathing pavilion notified police that Mullin apparently had been drowned because his clothing was found in one of their lockers at closing time.

Detectives, however, were skeptical, and today Mullin was back in Jersey City, a prisoner. He will be arraigned tomorrow.

The absconder, now 43, was captured a week ago in Portland, Ore., when he applied for a job in a government hospital. Fingerprints gave him away. Mullin was almost caught in 1937 when he applied for admission to the Veterans' hospital in Portland, but got away.

WARNS OF TRICK TO INVOLVE U. S. IN EUROPE'S WAR

West Frankfort, Ill., March 2 [Special].—America yet may be tricked into an entry into the war by the passage of bill 1776, asserted Dr. Howard G. Swann, University of Chicago physiologist, today before a rally held under the auspices of the Illinois America First committee.

Swann's talk was the windup of a week-end state-wide drive by four speakers urging residents of Illinois to swamp United States Senator Scott W. Lucas with letters asking him to vote against the lease-lend bill.

"For a year the American people have been fed propaganda designed to scare them to death, to play upon their fears and gradually work them up to where they would be willing to enter the war," Swann said. "They yet may be tricked into war by passage of bill 1776, but if the question is put squarely up to them there is no doubt as to their stand."

Widow Falls Asleep While Smoking; Burns to Death

Mrs. Judith Robertson, 37 years old, a widow, was burned to death last night in the living room of her third floor apartment at 6975 North Bell avenue. Police said she apparently fell asleep on a couch while smoking a cigaret. The fire was confined to the room.

ZIMBALIST QUITS GUILD AND JOINS PETRILLO UNION

New York, March 2 [Special].—Efrem Zimbalist, violinist, and José Iturbi, pianist, both members of the American Guild of Musical Artists, have joined the American Federation of Musicians, Henry A. Friedman, attorney for James C. Petrillo, A. F. M. president, announced today. Albert Spalding, violinist, yesterday quit the guild to join the federation. Until recently Spalding had been a champion of the guild's fight against Petrillo.

In view of these disaffections in the guild's memberships, Friedman said, he doubted there would be a showdown over Petrillo's order, that instrumentalists join the federation or be boycotted by 130,000 union musicians.

The department of justice last Friday announced it would ask a federal grand jury to determine if Petrillo and the booking agencies of the radio networks had conspired to "destroy" the guild.

Guild officials said they would wait for developments tomorrow night in Chicago, where Gladys Swarthout will sing and use an accompanist who is a guild member.

NAB EX-FELON IN RAPE ATTEMPT.

Aaron Brown, 26 years old, colored, an ex-convict, was seized by police yesterday after he had dragged a young woman into an alley near 63d place and Dorchester avenue. She said he tried to rape her. Brown said he had tried only to snatch her purse.

EDEN AND DILL REACH GREECE FROM TURKEY

ATHENS, Greece, March 2 (AP).—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden of Great Britain arrived today by plane from Turkey and was received by King George II. Accompanying Eden was Gen. Sir John G. REPORT BRITAIN READY TO POOL WAR INDUSTRIES

Mobilization May Rival That of Labor.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 2.—Announcement of wide reaching action toward pooling, under government supervision, of factories and industrial plants engaged in war production or the manufacture of goods for export to relieve the foreign exchange crisis, is expected this week. THE TRIBUNE was informed today that a statement toward this end may be made soon by Oliver Lyttelton, member of parliament and president of the board of trade.

It is understood industrial resources probably will be mobilized along lines introduced by Minister of Labor Ernest Bevin in dealing with the nation's man power. Labor is being registered so that skilled workers can quickly be used wherever they are most needed.

Bad Management Assailed.

Complaints have been made that bad management, not labor, is the principal reason why all is not well in British industries. The New Statesman and Nation, in discussing the need for industrial mobilization, said the "solution will come by central planning of distribution of available supplies, by rationing and readjustment of relative wages, granting full wages to trainees, and finally by financial pooling of industry and trade."

Financial assistance is necessary, it said "to free the individual entrepreneur from the nightmare of complete economic annihilation and to free his plant for war purposes." State subsidies may be necessary, the paper added, where profits of the surviving firms are "insufficient to pay adequate compensation without raising prices."

Tells of Socialist State.

Regarding Britain's rapid march toward becoming a Socialist state, Canon Roger Lloyd wrote in the weekly Spectator:

'The governing factor in the reconstruction of politics after the war will be the victory of the labor doctrine . . . won by the Conservative good will and votes."

That labor, however, is not yet satisfied with the progress already made is evident in a demand of Aneurin Bevan, powerful Laborite member of parliament, in the weekly Tribune. He said local labor parties should begin holding meetings thruout the country and agitating among other things that the government "take over the railways, harbors, and transport services at once," as well as the entire coal industry.

New Hair Styles

Hair stylists twisted, looped, curled, and patted into place two limp mops of hair to show a pair of the spring season's new coiffures at the Midwest Beauty Trade show in the Hotel Sherman yesterday. The show continues thru Wednesday.

Frederick Jungst, president of the Coiffure Guild of New York City, demonstrated a fluffy hair-do called "silhouette bangs." In this act a blonde had her forehead draped with bangs which were lightly curled "to avoid a hard expression and top heavy feeling," according to the maestro. A tortoise shell comb fastened the waves in back.

Keeping up with world events as well as the season, Robert Sievers of New York produced something called "Grecian silhouette" for reasons of his own. In this the hair was brought back on each side with deep shadow waves, a cascade puff arranged loosely over the forehead, and a group of Grecian curls over the back of the head held in place by an artificial braid.

4 BRITISH SHIPS SUNK BY BOMBS, GERMANS CLAIM

Report Merchant Vessels Totaled 30,000 Tons.

BERLIN, March 2 (AP).—Four British merchantmen, totaling 30,000 tons, were sunk by German air attack today, informed sources reported. These were in addition to five vessels claimed by Germany's sea-going flyers to have been sunk on Saturday in raids on British shipping.

One 10,000-ton ship was said to have been sunk immediately in today's air bombardment when a direct hit on the engine room exploded the vessel's boiler off the Shetland Islands. Two other ships, of 8,000 and 10,000 tons, travelling in the same convoy, were so seriously damaged they sank soon after the attack, it was stated.

A fourth merchantman, of 2,000 tons, said to have been intercepted in St. George's channel, between the Irish sea and the Atlantic, quickly sank.

Attacked in Two Convoys.

Three of the ships claimed in the Saturday total were attacked at dusk in two British convoys off the northeast coast of Scotland, the German sources said. Their tonnage was estimated at 22,000.

One long distance pilot reported having sunk a 3,000 ton freighter in the north Atlantic and late reports from the seafront added another destroyed off northern England.

The high command's Saturday communique, recapitulating the results of Nazi sea and air warfare against Britain's sea routes in February, said a total of 740,000 tons of shipping had been sunk—550,000 tons by naval forces and 190,000 tons by air attack.

"Sunken" Ship Still Afloat.

New York, March 2 (AP).—The 5,702 ton freighter Starstone, which the German radio said was sunk by a Nazi bomber west of Ireland last October, arrived today from Glasgow.

BULGARIA FORCED TO ENTER AXIS, CITY GROUP TOLD

Chicagoans of Bulgarian birth or descent were told yesterday that their native land never would have joined the axis had she not been forced to do so. The speaker, the Rev. Saprian D. Vidoloff of the Bulgarian Christian Union, addressed several hundred of the city's 2,500 Bulgarians in Calvary Presbyterian church, 4201 Jackson boulevard.

"Bulgaria was asked to sign with the axis before, and didn't," the Rev. Mr. Vidoloff said. "Now we are afraid Bulgaria will be turned into a battlefield, altho her population, 80 per cent agrarian, is peace loving."

Today is the 63d birthday of the modern Bulgarian kingdom. Liberation from five centuries of Turkish rule will be celebrated by Bulgarians all over the world.

Reveal Nazi Torpedo Plane Sank French Mail Steamer

VICHY, France, March 1 [Delayed] (AP).—German torpedo planes sank the 3,089 ton French postal freighter, Louis Charles Schiaffino, on Feb. 26, it was announced today. The Nazi airmen were said to have made a mistake. The ship, out of Algiers, had been serving North African ports and was within a mile of shore when struck.

BRITISH CAPTURE PASS IN PUSH ON KEREN, ERITREA

Ethiopians Fight Italians; French Take Oasis.

CAIRO, Egypt, March 2 (AP).—British soldiers closing on Italian forces making a strong stand at Keren, Italian Eritrea, have captured an important pass covering the approach to that vital junction point, British general headquarters announced today. The royal air force aided the besiegers of Keren by attacking enemy positions in the neighborhood, added an R. A. F. communique.

Keren is the key to Asmara, capital of Italy's oldest colony and 42 miles from the scene of the fighting.

The British also reported progress in operations in Ethiopia and in Italian Somaliland.

The general headquarters communique said the troops in Ethiopia proceeded along the road to Gondar.

Ethiopian Depot Raided.

"In the Gojjam [district] patriot [native Ethiopian] forces inflicted considerable losses on the Italian garrison at Burye, which attempted a sortie with cavalry and infantry," the communique added.

South African air force units again raided Neghelli, Ethiopia, and scored hits on a mechanical transport park, the R. A. F. said.

"Free French" Take Oasis.

LONDON, March 2 (AP).—Headquarters of the "Free French" forces announced tonight that its troops in Libya, Italian North Africa, had captured the oasis of Cufra, taking 1,000 prisoners and important war material.

Cufra lies more than 600 miles inland in southern Libya.

"Joint Victory" Pledged.

ROME, March 2 (AP).—German troops sent to Libya to strengthen faltering Italian forces there have taken an oath to "make the greatest effort for a joint victory" of Germany and Italy, the official Italian news agency, Stefani, reported today.

The Italian high command reported the British were routed in two actions yesterday in the East African campaign—in the Arresa sector of northern Eritrea and in the Sirgoli zone, southwest of Asosa, western Ethiopia.

HOLLAND WOMAN DIES.

Holland Mich., March 2 (Special).—Mrs. Charles J. Parreant, 69 years old, a widow, died late yesterday in a hospital at Grand Rapids. She was a daughter of the late Gerrit Van Schelven, former postmaster here. Funeral services will be held Tuesday.

British Close In on Key City

REPORT ITALIANS RAID GREEK CITY JARRED BY QUAKE

ATHENS, Greece, March 2 (AP).—Italian bombers struck at the earthquake stricken city of Larissa today during the peak of relief work, a government spokesman said, but no additional casualties resulted.

Buildings already shattered by yesterday's violent quake crumpled under the impact of bombs after the city's population had been removed, he added. Seven dead and 23 injured were taken from the quake ruins.

On the central Albanian military front the Greek army was said to have thrown back repeated Italian counterattacks aimed at reoccupying positions captured by the Greeks.

British Fly Aid to City.

CAIRO, Egypt, March 2 (AP).—British bombers loaded with medical supplies and physicians have flown to Larissa, Greece, to help victims of yesterday morning's earthquake.

"NO TICKEE" BANDITS GET LAUNDRY.

Three men took $20 and three bundles of washing Saturday night from Charles Tor's laundry at 6425 North avenue. Then they went to Jim Ling's place at 5817 North avenue, where they got $46 and one bundle of laundry.

GERMAN, DUTCH COASTS BOMBED IN BRITISH RAIDS

LONDON, March 2 (AP).—British planes raided German and Dutch coastal points today in a quick follow-up of night bomb assaults on western Germany which the British said left a "multitude" of fires in the Rhineland city of Cologne.

The air ministry said German airdromes at Borkum, an island northwest of Emden just across from Holland, and Hamstede and the port of Harlingen, Holland, were attacked.

Docks, railway targets and oil installations in the industrial Ruhr valley, at Rotterdam, the Netherlands, and the "invasion coast" port of Boulogne, France, also were raided last night by the British.

The German air force for its part pounded scattered sections of England last night, killing some persons but, officials reported, doing little damage. London had a one hour raid alarm tonight.

Attack Airports, Harbors.

BERLIN, March 2 (AP).—"Successful" overnight attacks by "strong formations" of planes on military targets at Cardiff, Southampton and Great Yarmouth.

NEW DECREE HITS AT FRENCH FOES OF VICHY ABROAD

VICHY, France, March 2 (AP).—A decree making all nonconforming French citizens abroad, such as Mlle. Eve Curie, liable to lose their nationality, will be issued shortly, the ministry of justice announced tonight.

[Mlle. Curie, daughter of the discoverers of radium, fled from France when the republic fell and resides in London. She arrived in New York on Jan. 21 for a lecture tour.]

France has withdrawn the citizenship of Frenchmen who fled the country on their own initiative between May 10 and June 20 last year. The new decree, the ministry of justice said, will permit the government to deal with citizens abroad who carry on "propaganda to undo the work of national restoration."

NAZIS AT GREEK FRONTIER; SPEED TOWARD TURKEY

Eighteen of those who opposed approval filed objections to the pact as "a dangerous historical step which violates the proclaimed government policy of peace and neutrality formally tying Bulgaria with one of the belligerents.

"We think entry into the pact places Bulgaria in the danger of war," their statement added.

Celebrate "Independence" Day.

Ironically the Bulgarian people yesterday celebrated the traditional "Day of Liberation and Independence."

Thanks were given in the domed Orthodox cathedral for deliverance from Turkish rule 63 years ago and the echoes of religious music mingled in the streets with the roar of German army motorcycles and armored troop trucks.

Those Bulgarians not in churches celebrating Independence day stared open mouthed at rolling Nazi columns and bemedaled, grinning German staff officers who stepped from huge limousines.

Bewildered at Russia's Attitude.

The day of celebration served to stress the Bulgarian man in the street's bewilderment at Russia's attitude over what has happened to his country. Wreaths were placed on the statue of Czar Alexander who, with his imperial Russian armies, was Bulgaria's "liberator" from the Turks.

Communists as well as hundreds of thousands of pro-Russian peasants have given no indication what their reaction may be to developments which, for the second time within a quarter of a century, have lumped little Bulgaria's fortunes with those of Germany in a fight against the British empire.

Last week communist peasant leaders urged their followers to oppose Nazi invasion by a campaign of propaganda and noncoöperation but cautioned against "forceful opposition." Now, however, most of those leaders are either in concentration camps or hiding in the hills.

EYE DARDANELLES AS KEY TO FUTURE COURSE OF TURKS

The story of Turkey in relation to European politics is the story of the Dardanelles.

With one foot in Europe and the other in Asia Minor, Turkey stands athwart the straits from the Black sea which give Russia and German-occupied Rumania and Bulgaria their only outlet to the Mediterranean.

Control of the Dardanelles has been a much-sought prize for centuries. It was a major pawn of the world war. It may be again.

Then Turkey—the ancient Ottoman empire—sided with Germany, Austria-Hungary, and Bulgaria against Britain, France, Russia, and the allies.

The allies had promised Russia she could have Constantinople [now Istanbul] and control of the straits when the war spoils were to be divided. During the conflict, at Gallipoli, the allies tried unsuccessfully and disastrously to force the Dardanelles.

When the war was over, Russia was under a new soviet régime and took no part in the peace settlements.

The Ottoman empire was crumbling and strong young nationalist forces, after repulsing a Greek invasion, created a new Turkish republic from the ruins. The Dardanelles by agreement with the allies was demilitarized, a condition that continued until 1936, when the Montreux convention permitted Turkey again to fortify the straits.

Bulgarian Rulers

EXPECT BRITAIN TO BREAK SOON WITH BULGARIA

Envoy in Sofia Will Determine Time.

LONDON, March 2 (AP).—Great Britain was expected momentarily tonight to announce that her diplomatic relations with Bulgaria have been broken. This will be Britain's first concrete reaction to Germany's military penetration of the little Balkan kingdom and may come by tomorrow. Informed sources emphasized that it will be due solely to the presence of uniformed Nazis in that country and not because of Bulgaria's having signed with the axis in Vienna yesterday.

Hear Bulgarian Envoy Quits.

The break will come, they said, when George W. Rendel, the British minister to Sofia, sees no further justification for remaining there and asks for his passport.

M. Montchilov, Bulgarian minister to London, was reported by the British Press association to have telegraphed his resignation to Sofia as a show of disapproval for Bulgaria's axis alignment.

Military Considerations.

Since Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden is directing personally British diplomatic moves in the Balkans, informed sources said it was unlikely that the signal for the breach would come from London. Eden arrived by airplane today in Athens after his talks last week in Turkey.

With Gen. Sir John G. Dill, chief of the British imperial staff also in the near east, they said it was evident that military considerations would determine any diplomatic decision.

First Japanese Minister Sails for Australian Post

SYDNEY, Australia, March 2 (AP).—Sir Frederick Stewart, minister of external affairs, announced today that the first Japanese minister to Australia, Tatsuo Kawai, has sailed from Japan and is due here March 13. Stewart said the Japanese envoy would be assured of the same welcome in Australia as the Australian minister to Japan, Sir John Latham, had received in Tokio.

GERMANY HEARS (AT LAST) OF NEW GRAB BY TROOPS

Press Hails Bulgarian Entrance Into Axis.

BERLIN, March 2 (AP).—The occupation of Bulgaria by Nazi troops which began early yesterday was not officially disclosed to the German public until late tonight. The high command then issued a brief communique calling the move a "protection against British measures in southeast Europe."

The Nazi press thruout the day rejoiced over Bulgaria's joining the axis alliance but until the communique was read over the radio the only indication of the troop movement was the publication of brief dispatches under a Sofia dateline saying that "in order to oppose British plans to extend the war in the Balkans and to protect Bulgarian interests German troops, with the approval of the Bulgarian administration, have crossed the Bulgarian border."

Report Explosives Discovered.

The press gave prominence in its accounts of Bulgaria's union with the axis to charges that British agents had plotted to blow up Sofia's water supply.

Explosives of British origin, it said, had been found near the Sofia waterworks. Numerous agents of Britain have been arrested, the press declared.

Informed German sources said that among the British "measures" which led Germany to move troops into Bulgaria were British threats to land soldiers in various areas of Greece as well as the occupation of the Island of Lemnos in the Aegean months ago.

Says Others to Join Axis.

The press said that Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop had given assurance that other states would be getting into line with the axis. The remark seemed to be addressed chiefly to Jugo-Slavia, commentators here agreed, but other states were expected to heed the statement.

Hitler Sends Boris a Wire; Extends His Best Wishes

BERLIN, March 2 (AP).—The German radio tonight broadcast a telegram which Adolf Hitler sent from Berchtesgaden to King Boris of Bulgaria after the signing of the axis alliance by Bulgaria. The text of the message follows: "I beg your majesty to accept in this hour, in which Bulgaria has again given expression of her bond with Germany, Italy, and Japan by joining the tripartite pact, my heartiest wishes for the well being of your majesty and for the happy future of Bulgaria."

CLOSER FRENCH COLLABORATION WITH NAZIS SEEN

Petain Regime Stations Agent in Paris.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VICHY, France, March 2.—One of the principal aims of Marshal Petain's governmental reorganization of last week is to bid for closer collaboration with the Germans.

Jacques Barnaud, named general delegate for Franco-German collaboration, who attended the Franco-German economic conference in Paris last week, already has gone back to Paris to resume his duties. He is to prepare and conduct all Franco-German economic negotiations from Paris and especially to keep in contact with the economic committees of the armistice commission which passes on everything concerning French industry.

Barnaud operates under the new ministry of national economy and finance headed by Yves Bouthillier, who has under him the ministries of production, national equipment, labor, and communications.

In the setup Bouthillier becomes an economic dictator in the drive to get industry revived and unemployment reduced and to prepare for the time when the nation will have to reabsorb two million war prisoners.

Drive to Start Industry.

The naming of Pierre Pucheu, a leader of the steel industry, as secretary for industrial production is hardly less commented on than the appointment of Barnaud. Pucheu's post concentrates production under one ministry. It formerly was combined with the ministry of labor.

Petain's reorganized government might be compared with a committee of public safety—it presumably ends a three months' period of tension which began with the dismissal of Pierre Laval as vice premier. The door still is not closed to Laval's participation in the government, tho his acceptance now is unlikely.

The two main aspects of the changes seem to be an effort at concentration of powers so as to lead to speedier action and to conciliate all the diverse tendencies manifesting themselves in France—particularly those which result from France being split in two by the demarcation line.

Paris Response Favorable.

The Paris press and those on the other side of the line who have been hostile to Vichy seem to have responded favorably to the government changes.

The changes also indicate the intensification of the project to direct and exploit the youth of the nation along the lines of the youth movements in Italy and Germany.

The installation of the national council to advise Petain which was set up including 200 personalities—among them 70 former parliamentarians—appears to have been delayed. Installation ceremonies were set for Feb. 25 in Lyons, but the Germans would not let some concillors leave the occupied zone.

DR. KLEMPERER QUITS HOSPITAL; HELD BY POLICE

Morristown, N. J., March 2 (AP).—Police Chief Fred A. Roff said tonight that Dr. Otto Klemperer, 55 years old, noted German composer and conductor, is being held pending a conference tomorrow with Prosecutor William Hegarty.

Klemperer was taken into custody today at a hotel after a police broadcast from Rye, N. Y., asked that he be detained. Klemperer had left a Rye sanitarium Friday which he had entered voluntarily Monday.

Roff said he had refused to turn Klemperer over to Rye detectives. He added he had talked with Klemperer's son, Werner, by telephone from New York and that one of his staff had talked by phone with Mrs. Klemperer, in California. Both asked that he not be turned over to Rye police. Mrs. Klemperer said she would arrive here by airplane tomorrow.

Dr. C. J. Kelly of the Wallingford house at Rye where Klemperer had been a patient, said he had informed Rye police that the institute refused "further responsibility" for Klemperer's care.

LUTHERAN SCHOOL DEDICATED.

Bloomington, Ill., March 2 (Special).—The new $74,000 school and parish hall of Trinity Lutheran church was dedicated here today in the presence of some thousand delegates from 80 other Lutheran congregations of central Illinois. There were brief addresses by the Rev. John Schuelke of Peoria and the Rev. K. Hein of New Berlin.

JAPAN REPORTS VICHY APPROVES SIAM PEACE PLAN

Says Colonial Agents Seek Better Terms.

SAIGON, French Indo-China, March 2 (AP).—The Vichy government has agreed to Tokio's plan for settlement of the territorial dispute between Indo-China and Thailand [Siam], a Japanese spokesman declared today, but French colonial representatives at Tokio are withholding their agreement, hoping to minimize the concessions to Thailand.

The spokesman, Commander Isao Yasumura, said, however, that the Japanese expect prompt signature of the Tokio agreement. Japan has demanded that the French cede to Thailand large areas of the Indo-China provinces of Laos and Cambodia.

Officials at Hanoi, the French colonial capital, said, however, they had not been informed of any Vichy decision.

A Domei, Japanese news agency, dispatch from Hanoi said French troops "continued to move southward amid continued tension" and that French and Japanese authorities alike were awaiting instruction from their home governments.

Report Vichy Delays.

VICHY, France, March 2 (AP).—An informed source intimated tonight that France had agreed to Tokio's request that she come to terms with Thailand but said she had not consented to the concessions asked.

It was indicated that the French reply made, or to be made, in Tokio was a compromise offer as the basis for further discussions.

Supply Line Cut, Say Japs.

CANTON, China, March 2 (AP).—Japanese occupation of Tamshui and other points near Hongkong early last month has resulted in complete halting of supplies from the British crown colony to the Chinese interior, a Japanese spokesman declared today.

Youth Recovers After Cold Dip in Mississippi

(Picture on back page.)

Davenport, Ia., March 2 [Special].—Horan Snell is fully recovered today from the effects of an economical crossing of the Mississippi river. Snell, 18 years old, wanted to cross to Rock Island, Ill., and noting that the river was frozen, decided it was useless to pay 5 cents toll. When halfway across the stream, the ice broke. Policemen rescued him.

OSCAR MAURER DIES.

Savanna, Ill., March 2 [Special].—Oscar Maurer, 60, a fireman for the Burlington railroad for 30 years, died yesterday. Funeral services will be Monday.

RED PRESS FAILS TO COMMENT ON BULGARIAN MOVE

MOSCOW, March 2 (AP).—The soviet press published without comment today brief reports of Bulgaria's entry into the axis. Two Tass, official soviet news agency, dispatches from Berlin were printed, the first announcing the signing at Vienna yesterday and the second giving the text of the pact.

These reports were followed with news of British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden's visit to Turkey. The communique was published announcing that Britain and Turkey had studied the Balkan situation and reached "perfect accord."

Sir Stafford Cripps, British ambassador to Russia, was understood to be flying back to Moscow after participating in the discussions last week at Ankara.

Balmy Afternoon Lures Strollers to Boulevards

Chicagoans strolled on the boulevards and in the parks yesterday, while balmy breezes sent the mercury up to 48. Some of those who crossed the Outer drive bridge saw a strange sight—sea gulls floating down the river on cakes of ice, each gull on his individual cake. Nature lovers said gulls often do that when they can't think of any other way to entertain themselves. Today will be colder, according to Forecaster H. A. Downs, and there may be snow.

WITH Spring just around the corner, are you thinking of your summer vacation? Would you like to WIN the money for that trip you have been dreaming about? Well, here's your opportunity!

Today the Chicago Tribune begins a new $5,000 Cash Prize contest—Radio Super-Stars! It's open FREE to men, women, boys, and girls everywhere—it's simple—it's entertaining—and you may win as much as $1,000 in cash or one of 429 other cash awards. Just think what a wonderful vacation you could have!

The stars whose names will appear in this series are well-known to you. You've heard them on the air many times—you've seen most of them in the movies—such popular radio personalities as Gracie Allen, Bing Crosby, Fibber McGee, John Barrymore, and others.

Study the picture at the right. What popular radio star does it suggest to you? Of course! Now write the name below the picture. Easy, wasn't it?

Why not try for some of this extra vacation money? Start with Puzzle No. 1 shown here. Then get Puzzle No. 2 in tomorrow's Daily Tribune and continue until you complete the series. $5,000 in cash prizes will be paid for best solutions! There are no strings or catches! No subscriptions to solicit! Nothing to pay! Just amuse yourself solving the puzzle pictures.

★ THE RULES ★

WHO CAN ENTER? This offer is open free to men, women, boys and girls everywhere—except employes of the Chicago Tribune and members of their families. No person may submit more than one entry.

WHAT TO DO? Each week day a puzzle picture representing the name of a popular radio star will be printed in the Daily Tribune until 42 have appeared. Solve the puzzle pictures and write the names in the space provided, or on a facsimile. Hold all answers until you have the complete set of 42. Do not send them in separately. It is not necessary to solve ALL puzzles correctly to win. Prizes will be paid for entries ranking highest.

WHERE TO SEND? Mail your entry by First Class Mail to "Super-Stars," Chicago Tribune, Post Office Box 1539, Chicago, Illinois. A ballot will be printed with Puzzle Picture No. 42. Each contestant must vote for the "Super-Star" he or she likes best and state the reason for such choice in 25 words or less. Contestants may use the printed ballot or a facsimile. Ballots will be considered only if two or more persons submit equally correct solutions to the puzzle pictures; in which event, judgment will be based on sincerity and originality. Entries must be in by midnight, one week after Puzzle No. 42 has been printed.

JUDGMENT! Entries will be judged by a committee appointed by the Chicago Tribune. Entrants agree that the judges' decisions will be final. 430 cash awards totaling $5,000 will be paid to the persons who send in the nearest correctly solved, complete sets of puzzle pictures. Elaborate entries will receive no more consideration than simple ones. In fairness to all the Tribune cannot engage in any correspondence. In case of ties duplicate awards will be paid.

CATHOLICS FINISH FIRST AMERICAN NEW TESTAMENT

Changes After 191 Years Improve Readability.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Kansas City, Mo., March 2.—Press proofs of the revised New Testament of the Catholic Douay-Rheims English Bible made public here today, reveal the many changes which have been designed to make for improved readability.

Bishop E. V. O'Hara.

The revision, which required five years of work by a committee of 40 translators, is the first since 1750, according to Bishop Edwin V. O'Hara of the diocese of Kansas City, chairman of the Episcopal Committee of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine. It is intended primarily for use by the confraternity in imparting Catholic doctrine to adults and children who do not or did not attend Catholic schools.

Typographical Changes Striking.

Striking typographical changes mark the revised New Testment, a volume of 800 pages 5½ by 7½ inches in size. Long familiar indented verse numbers are missing. Instead, they are printed in the margin. There is but one column of type, instead of two, to the page.

Sectional headings stress thought and action of the text, such as "Purity," "Almsgiving," and "Prayer," rather than chapter and verse, altho those designations also are given. Other reader aids include modern punctuation and double and single quotation marks.

Translations Alter Text.

Examples of some of the changes in the text, compared with phraseology adopted 191 years ago when the New Testament was revised by Bishop Richard Challoner, vicar apostolic of London, follow:

"Blessed are the meek, for they shall possess the earth."

In the old version the word "land" instead of "earth" appeared in the proverb.

"Now in those days there came John the Baptist, preaching in the desert of Judea, and saying, 'Repent, for the kingdom of Heaven is at hand.'"

The old translation was: And in those days cometh John the Baptist preaching in the desert of Judea. And saying: Do penance; for the kingdom of Heaven is at hand.

The revised New Testament is expected to make its appearance May 18, which has been designated as Biblical Sunday.

Revise Catholic Bible Version

(Story in adjoining column.)

6, 9-20 ST. MATTHEW

9 you need before you ask him. In this manner therefore shall you pray:

'Our Father who art in heaven,
hallowed be thy name.
10 Thy kingdom come,
thy will be done
on earth, as it is in heaven.
11 Give us this day our daily bread.
12 And forgive us our debts,
as we also forgive our debtors.
13 And lead us not into temptation,
but deliver us from evil.'

14 For if you forgive men their offenses, your heavenly Father
15 will also forgive you your offenses. But if you do not forgive men, neither will your Father forgive you your offenses.

16 Fasting "And when you fast, do not look gloomy like the hypocrites, who disfigure their faces in order to appear to men as fasting. Amen I say to you, they have had their reward.
17 But thou, when thou dost fast, anoint thy head and wash
18 thy face, so that thou mayest not be seen by men to fast, but by thy Father, who is in secret; and thy Father, who sees in secret, will reward thee.

MEXICO PROGRAM OPENS GOOD WILL SERIES ON RADIO

The first of a series of new radio programs called "The Americas Speak," sponsored by Rotary International and linking the United States with other nations in the western hemisphere, was carried over W-G-N and the coast to coast network of the Mutual system yesterday.

Mexico was featured on the program in a three way hookup of Chicago, Washington, D. C., and Mexico City. Many stations of the Canadian Broadcasting corporation also carried the program.

After an announcement from W-G-N in Chicago, Vice President Henry A. Wallace spoke from Washington and Miguel Aleman, secretary of the interior of Mexico, and other Mexican business men who are leading Rotarians spoke from Mexico City. All praised the program as a movement to cement international good will.

Cuba will be saluted on the program next Sunday.

Wire, Air Links to Europe Improve as Storms Fade

New York, March 2 (AP).—Waning magnetic and atmospheric storms, which broke up wireless and cable communications with Europe yesterday, disrupted some short wave circuits intermittently today.

LADIES WILL ACT LIKE PERFECT GENTLEMEN AT ILLINOIS WESLEYAN

Bloomington, Ill., March 2 [Special].—Vice Versa week—like leap year out of season—will begin tomorrow at Illinois Wesleyan university and continue thru a "spinsters' swing" dance Friday night. Men students instigated the affair because girls complained that the mates were doing too much off campus dating.

During this week, the girl will do the asking for dates, pay for refreshments, and open doors. She will carry the boy's books, walk on the outside of the sidewalk, and take off her hat when in the company of men. She'll help take off his coat, let him take off his shoes in the movies, and find them if they are lost.

What's more, according to the rules, "she shall always permit the male to remove himself in order to adjust his tie and curl his locks as often as he may choose, to there!" Also "she shall make all advances or similar moves of aggression during the week." Climax will be the dance on Friday, when the girls escort their dates and do all the leading on the floor.

FIRE DAMAGES IOWA CHURCH.

McGregor, Ia., March 2 [Special].—The Methodist church here suffered damage of $3,000 last night, when fire broke out in the Sunday school rooms. Last Sunday the Methodist church at Cresco burned to the ground.

LINER AGROUND ON WORLD TRIP REFLOATS SELF

Buzzards Bay, Mass., March 3, Monday (AP).—The coast guard reported that the agent of the American President Lines informed them that the liner President Hayes, which went aground last night at the Buzzards Bay entrance to Cape Cod canal, floated under her own power early today. The agent said since the ship pulled herself off he believed there was little damage to the vessel.

The coast guard said the vessel was floated at 12:50 a. m. Chicago time, while several coast guard craft and private tugs were en route to the $3,000,000 cargo-passenger liner.

The ship carried only three passengers but has a New England made cargo consigned to ports in many parts of the world.

The 9,500 ton vessel, one of seven sister ships built for the American President Lines around the world passenger-cargo service, has a speed of 16½ knots and carries a crew of 124. She was delivered to her owners on Feb. 20.

SHOT IN AUTO AS HE AWAITS TRYST WITH WED WOMAN

Angelo Nardello, 24 years old, 1536 5th avenue, Chicago Heights, was shot and seriously wounded last night as he sat in his car at Oak and Illinois streets in the suburb. He told police he had been waiting to meet a married woman when two men got into the car, ordered him to drive for several blocks, and then, without any explanation, one of them shot him in the side.

Nardello was taken to St. James' hospital in critical condition. Mrs. Rodney Wilson, who admitted she planned to meet Nardello, and her husband, a taxicab driver, were questioned by Police Chief Phil Howard.

2 Die in California Storm; Quake Jolts Los Angeles

Los Angeles, Cal., March 2 (AP).—Two deaths and an earthquake were reported today as southern California's current storm raged in most localities. Residents of Los Angeles' Wilshire area said a sharp quake there was accompanied by a rumbling noise and followed by a light aftershake. There was no damage. Scott L. Case, 70 years old, of Los Angeles died of a heart attack, after pushing his car from mud. Jimmie Griffin, 10, was swept off a breakwater by a wave and drowned.

BOY ADVENTURER HURT IN 40 FOOT FALL INTO TUNNEL

James E. Begley Jr., 15 years old, was injured seriously yesterday when he fell 40 feet down the shaft of a new emergency exit of the Chicago tunnel at Lake and Wells street. Physicians at County hospital said he suffered several fractured ribs and that it was feared a lung had been punctured.

Screams of his brother Joseph, 12, brought Policemen James Duhig and Rudy Anders, who rescued him from the tunnel. The police said he apparently had climbed over a barricade and lost his balance at the edge of the shaft.

The boys' father, a stockbroker, said the two possess a love for exploration. He said they left home at 6522 Newgard avenue early in the morning to seek new fields to explore. James is a second year pupil at Loyola academy.

Can MEN'S SHOES BE "Too Good"?

Strangely enough, some of our friends tell us that Frank Brothers shoes are too good. They say they practically never wear out . . . they say that if we put so much quality and value into them, we will sell only one pair to a man, where others would sell two. Our answer is, that after seventy-five years of doing business one way—as close to the "perfectionist" way as possible—we're not going to change. In fact, we get more like Frank Brothers every day. As world standards shift and change, we cling to the realities of fine leathers, handcraftsmanship, distinguished styling. We sincerely believe that men's shoes cannot be too good . . . but we are firm in our intention to see that if any shoes deserve such praise, they will be Frank Brothers Shoes.

The style is built-in, not added on

In this new location, we believe that Frank Brothers will build for itself a place greater than ever in the affections of the smart women of Chicago. For Frank Brothers is unique. In these changing days, when standards vary from week to week . . . when policies are altered overnight . . . when novelty chases novelty in a mad, kaleidoscopic parade, we like to be unwaveringly the same. For seventy-five years, Frank Brothers has been devoted to quality . . . has persisted in the presentation of lastingly beautiful shoes. It is a tradition, and we don't intend to change. That is why Frank Brothers Shoes are such excellent value . . . why America's first families have worn Frank Brothers Shoes for generations . . . and why you should become one of the growing number of smart women who are finding true economy as well as distinction in wearing Frank Brothers Shoes all the time.

FIVE HIGH SCHOOL BOYS SEIZED AS WINDOW VANDALS

Admit Smashing Panes in Western Suburbs.

A band of Oak Park High school youths, who confessed driving about Oak Park and River Forest peppering shop windows with buckshot fired from slingshots, was in parental custody yesterday as police investigated a long series of such attacks which have caused damage totaling $3,500 to $5,000.

The youths, all about 15 years old, were rounded up as the result of a chance remark overheard by a policeman. They were questioned for three hours, and confessed, the police said, before they were released.

Five Seized in Roundup.

Those seized were Robert Meisterling, 7339 Holly court; Richard Perry, 742 Monroe avenue, and Willis Graves, 7354 Lake street, all of River Forest, and Harry Wiedenbeck, 540 Forest avenue, and George Brandt, 648 Forest, both of Oak Park.

Lieut. Harry Wilson of Oak Park and Lieut. Raymond Rheingruber of River Forest, who conducted the investigation, said all except Graves admitted having used slingshots to fire buckshot at windows as they rode past in cars driven by either Meisterling or Wiedenbeck. Graves admitted being in the cars but denied firing any shots, the police said.

Salvos Chip Windows.

Police said that the windows hit, including 12 large plate glass store windows, were chipped, making replacement necessary. At intervals during the last year house windows and automobile windshields have been broken in slingshot attacks in the two suburbs. The youths denied responsibility for these depredations, however.

The band was apprehended after Policeman Bernard Gerard of River Forest overheard Meisterling tell another boy he had been out "shooting marbles." Meisterling was arrested and named the others.

Insurance companies which wrote policies for the stores affected were notified, and police said the question of prosecution would rest with them.

SKIDMORE TRIAL GAMBLER PARADE RESUMES TODAY

A parade of gamblers is expected to start moving again today in the court of Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan, where William R. Skidmore is on trial on charges of evading income taxes totaling $505,767 for the years 1933 thru 1938. The trial was recessed over the week-end.

The trial started a week ago and nine bookmakers and a policy wheel operator have testified they paid an aggregate of $15,000 to Skidmore in monthly instalments as insurance against police interference with their gambling enterprises.

The prosecutor and the state authorities thus far have not showed any noticeable interest in how Skidmore possessed power to approve handbooks, altho the question of a conspiracy to violate the state law against gambling presumably could be raised.

Even if Skidmore is given opportunity to tell where the money, if he should admit receiving any, eventually went, it is not thought likely he would do so.

He has been known around town for years as "a standup guy"—one who would not betray his friends.

1,500 View Tribune News Photos in Grand Rapids

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 2 [Special].—More than 1,500 persons visited an exhibition of 300 news photographs, taken by members of The Chicago Tribune photographic staff, during the week it was on display here. The exhibition, which closed yesterday, included photographs of news events dating back to 1909. It was brought here from Chicago and shown in Ryerson library under auspices of the Grand Rapids Camera club.

Pilot of Dr. Banting's Plane Reaches Montreal

MONTREAL, Que., March 2 (AP).—Joseph Mackey of Kansas City, pilot and survivor of the crash of a military airplane that killed Dr. Sir Frederick Banting and two others, was brought to Montreal by plane from Newfoundland airport today.

Married 68 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Silas Nichols of Waukegan.

Lake county's last surviving G. A. R. veteran, Silas Nichols, celebrated yesterday with Mrs. Elizabeth Nichols. It was their 68th wedding anniversary. Mr. Nichols is 93 years old. Mrs. Nichols is 85. Their home at 506 Poplar street, Waukegan, was filled with flowers sent them by their friends. Mr. Nichols served with Company I of the 145th Ohio infantry, which he joined at the age of 16 by pretending he was 18. He fought in the second battle of Bull Run. On three occasions he shook hands with Abraham Lincoln. Mr. and Mrs. Nichols have lived in Waukegan since 1892.

MEDICAL CENTER PLAN INDORSED BY CIVIC GROUP

The Greater Central District association announced yesterday its indorsement of the proposed creation of a medical center in the approximately mile-square area bounded by Ashland avenue, Oakley boulevard, Congress street, and Roosevelt road. A bill for an enabling act is pending before the legislature in Springfield.

"We have four medical schools of the first class in that section of the city now; more than any other city in the country," said William F. Krahl, association president. "These are located in one of our blighted areas. Clearing off ancient and tumbledown properties and replacing them with surroundings appropriate to these great institutions is a fine idea."

Krahl suggested establishing a Medical Center Foundation along lines of the Rockefeller Foundation, which would provide a medium for philanthropic bequests.

BURGLAR, SHOT BY WATCHMAN, DIES OF WOUNDS

Leonard Backley, 28 years old, who was shot in the head early yesterday by Herman Schoenhelder, 71, a watchman, in a gun battle with Backley and a companion who had broken into the office of the H. J. Mayer and Sons, spice dealers, at 6819 South Ashland avenue, died last night in the Bridewell hospital. Schoenhelder was wounded in the groin in the exchange of shots. Backley's companion fled. Police records showed that Backley had been placed on probation in 1937 on a burglary charge.

Why Life Insurance Keeps on Growing

Yes, life insurance is a big business.

You, the policyholders, have made it so. You have made life insurance the great business it is today, with its hundred and seventeen and a half billions of protection on the lives of 65 million Americans.

Here are two questions that you may want to ask about this business. First: why did it start? And, second: what made it grow? The answers are simple:

American life insurance started because people wanted a means by which they could protect themselves and their families against the unknown hazards of the future. And they wanted to do it by their own initiative and responsibility. So they created the life insurance business.

It was a new business in America 100 years ago. And it grew because it gave people what they wanted . . . Soon it was expanded to include income for old age . . . educational funds for children . . . provision for supplying capital to keep a business going after the death of the employer, thus keeping employees at work . . . and the satisfying of many other human needs.

Managements did their share in contributing to this growth by safeguarding the interests of the public—for no business could continue to grow steadily over 100 years without a high sense of public responsibility and trusteeship.

Life insurance agents spread the knowledge of what life insurance had to offer. People listened to them . . . bought a little at first, then more as their responsibilities increased . . . 65 million people have taken advantage of the idea . . . Today, half our population enjoys at least a degree of financial security in time of need, whereas 40 years ago only 10 million people enjoyed this protection.

They saw life insurance tested by panics, wars and pestilence, and saw progress in spite of these disturbances—and they approved. That is why life insurance grew to be a big business. And I expect it will keep on growing, in usefulness and service for the American people.

If you think of stamp money as petty cash, consider the case of a New York Times subscriber in Brazil who insists on daily delivery by Air Mail!

His week-day Times carries about $9 in stamps; a Sunday Times, about $25. At that rate his bill will total about $4137 a year. And he pays each month in advance!

The Times goes by Air Mail to a number of U. S. subscribers too. For them, as for over 475,000 other purchasers (800,000 on Sunday), nothing else can take the place of The New York Times. And the same opinion is held by many advertisers—witness Manhattan's famous department stores, which place the greatest volume of their advertising in The Times.

'STRIP' BANDITS ROB 3 MORE IN KIDNAP RAIDS

Three south siders surrendered their pants and other valuables early yesterday to the four "stripper" bandits who have committed 25 robberies in the last three weeks.

Peter Petkus, 2451 56th street, was held up in the rear of his home, driven to 56th street and Francisco avenue, and put out of the car minus his suit and $12. Martin Miller, 6923 Loomis boulevard, was next. The bandits forced him into his own car behind his home and picked up Max Glantz, 5344 Maryland avenue, victim No. 3, at 53d street and Maryland avenue.

Glantiz lost his suit, hat, and $44 and was freed at 26th street and Lowe avenue. Miller was freed at 42d street and Princeton avenue, minus his wrist watch, $5, trousers, leather jacket, shoes, and car.

30 Victims Accuse 3 Held as Strong-Arm Robbers

Thirty victims of strong-arm robberies and burglaries signed complaints yesterday against three Mexican youths accused of taking loot valued at $1,000 during the last year. Those held are Manuel Castanedo, 1361 South Peoria street; Peter Chavarria, 741 Arthington street, and Pat Gabaldon, 19 South Sangamon street, all 18 years old. Two juvenile accomplices, also in custody, were sent to the juvenile home.

HOW YOU CAN GET A
$100 LOAN
REPAID IN 12 INSTALLMENTS
AT A COST OF 5¢ A DAY

You can borrow $100 without endorsers or guarantors if you can pay back $9.77 a month for twelve months—Installments repay everything including charges which average less than 5c a day—Quick, friendly service

HAVE unusual expenses caught you short of ready cash? Have you old bills that you must get paid? If you have a steady job, there's a simple way for you to borrow the cash you need. You may then repay your loan in convenient monthly installments.

Suppose that you need $100. Find this amount in the first column of the table. Then read across picking out the monthly payments you wish to make. Twelve monthly installments of $9.77 each, for instance, will repay a $100 loan in full. The cost of your loan, in this case, averages less than five cents a day.

You may prefer smaller payments. As little as $6.43 a month for twenty months will also repay a $100 loan. Note that the sooner you repay, the less your loan costs. You can borrow $25 for two months, for instance, for only 96c.

Simple to get a loan

All you do to apply for your loan is to acquaint us with your problem. Loans are made on furniture, car or note. It is unnecessary to bring friends or relatives to sign the loan papers with you. This spares you the embarrassment of asking outsiders to act as endorsers. We help you keep your money affairs private by not asking friends or relatives about your credit. Our service is planned so that you may borrow conveniently and simply—and repay in installments which fit your own income.

Borrow for less

Payments in the table include all charges at Household's rate of 2½% per month on that part of a balance not exceeding $100, and 2% per month on that part of a balance in excess of $100. This rate is less than the maximum prescribed by the Small Loan Law. Every customer gets the benefit of this rate—whether new customer or former borrower.

Fair Treatment

If you should get sick or lose your job while paying on your loan, we will show you every consideration. Last year we foreclosed on only one chattel mortgage for each 20,000 loans—an action taken then only as protection against fraud.

Please feel free to phone or visit us at any time. You will be under no obligation to borrow.

A MILLION LIVES.

Speaking on a public platform in Washington the other day in favor of Anglo-American union, Miss Dorothy Thompson remarked that we are already in the war. Congressman Karl Mundt of South Dakota thereupon asked her whether she would favor sending several million young Americans to fight in Europe. Miss Thompson replied that her military advisors had told her that our army would not be required and then she added:

"But if I thought it necessary, I would spend a million lives to save this country, including the life of my own son and also my own."

It is not suggested here that the observations of the Brunhilde of the Bronx carry any great weight but there were circumstances attending her war cry which deserve notice. The presiding officer at the meeting was Mrs. Franklin Delano Roosevelt. Mrs. Roosevelt told about it subsequently in her syndicated column. Miss Thompson had been her guest at dinner. Mrs. Roosevelt had taken Miss Thompson to the meeting. Mrs. Roosevelt had enjoyed the experience. Everything was just lovely. If Mrs. Roosevelt had been at all disturbed about Miss Thompson's advocacy of wholesale blood-letting some mention of it must have appeared in "My Day." It is impossible, therefore, to believe that Mrs. Roosevelt disapproved.

Here is another evidence, then, to add to many others showing the kind of thinking which is prevalent these days in the White House. The Roosevelts who talked for campaign purposes about aid short of war are now considering risking a million American lives in war. These are not Roosevelt, or at any rate not Franklin Roosevelt lives. The boys of that family are in positions of relative safety. They appear to be no more exposed than is Miss Dorothy Thompson's son, presently aged 12, or Miss Thompson herself.

Miss Thompson says she would sacrifice a million lives to save her country. So would almost any other American if this country were in danger. She quite overlooks the fact that it is Britain, not America, which lives under the threat of invasion. Hitler has not made a pass at us and, if he tries it, will wish he hadn't. Miss Thompson's emotions are so deeply involved in the fate of Britain that she can't distinguish her country from the British Isles. She has transferred her fears for Britain to her own country as if it, too, were threatened. It isn't. There isn't a competent military critic in the world who will predict anything but abject failure for a German invasion or a joint German-Japanese invasion of the United States.

The million young men of the Roosevelt-Thompson sacrifice are to die in a war which America did not make. America was not consulted when Britain and France declared war. American advice was not sought and when offered was not followed in the diplomatic maneuvers which preceded hostilities. Britain and France threw down our proposals for joint action on the Manchurian and Ethiopian incidents. If the death of a million American boys wins the victory, America will not share in the spoils. There is nothing in Europe, or Africa, or the islands of the seas that we want or would take if it were offered to us.

The debit side of the ledger will show no such absence of entries. We shall be called upon to sacrifice a million lives. We shall be overwhelmed with debt, with industrial disorganization, with disillusionment. We shall be enslaved to a war dictatorship, and this time, with national bankruptcy staring us in the face, we shall not get out from under it as promptly as we did after the last war. We shall have to have a dictator for the same reason that they have dictators in Russia, Italy, and Germany: because the country will be broke and only a dictatorship and the compulsions that go with it can avert chaos.

That is the prospect that Miss Thompson and her friends in the White House hold out to the American people. She is no Nathan Hale in skirts. The sacrifice she offers to her country is purely rhetorical. Other mothers and other sons will pay for the hysteria which she is spreading with White House approval.

MR. ROOSEVELT AS AN EMANATION.

Senator Wheeler and other opponents of the war bill 1776 find that it is animated by the spirit of the Fuehrerprinzip, the hero cult which subordinates an entire people to the will of the Leader. The Fuehrerprinzip goes along with a lot of other highfalutin' mysticism which could be called nonsensical if its realities were not so terrible.

The German language is peculiarly fitted to express the sonorities of the cult, just as the German mind is peculiarly receptive to its ideas. Weltanschauung, Blut and Boden, and Volksgenossen do not in their English equivalents of "world outlook," "blood and land," and "fellow countrymen" or fellow folk awareness contain a toe deep ecstasy. But just because people speaking English cannot charge a bad idea with the roll of thunder does not guarantee that they cannot fall a victim to some modification of it.

Senator Wheeler and his associates are quite right in finding the Fuehrerprinzip in bill 1776. That is its essence and the man who wants the bill is hospitable to the hero cult program with himself in the hero rôle, preparing himself, if not the people, to accept the German view of law in the Fuehrerstaat. There the law is the spontaneous emanation of the Fuehrer's will.

Mr. Roosevelt asks congress to endow him with spontaneous emanations.

FREEDOM OF SPEECH ON CAPITOL HILL.

Senator Carter Glass says he has asked the Federal Bureau of Investigation to find out how many mothers there are among the mothers who have been picketing the senate against war bill 1776, and who is putting up the money for them. We don't want to be tiresome in treating this subject, but the senators remain discontented with Mr. Justice Frankfurter's concept of freedom of speech as protected by the first and fourteenth amendments of the constitution and as provided in acts passed by congress.

Most of the mothers of the United States who have sons of draft age are at home worrying. They are busy with household duties and they are troubled by the prospect they fear congress is about to offer their families. But the mothers who are disturbing the senators, whether they are mothers or not, are protected by Mr. Justice Frankfurter's concept of freedom, and his concept is the law of the land by the decision of the Supreme court.

Senator Glass can't change it by calling in the agents of the department of justice. Indeed, it is an oddity that an appeal to this department should be made in this manner and for this purpose.

If the Federal Bureau of Investigation did its duty it would be investigating the senators and not the women. Is the senate still unaware that the Supreme court has held with regard to picketing, that "a trivial disorder or a bit of animal exuberance does not taint the exercise of free speech with such violence as would work a denial of the freedom"? Congress has passed laws which authorize citizens to make nuisances of themselves at the gates of factories, at the doors of shops, and in public places. They may picket any place where they care to to express any ideas they have, and the decision of the Supreme court is that they are within their rights.

Let it be repeated to the senators who intend to hand war bill 1776 to the people that women who make nuisances of themselves in protest are expressing their opinion upon an issue of the greatest national importance. A senator who is annoyed and storms around asking for the protection of the department of justice is on the wrong side of the fence. He is the disorderly person. He is seeking to deprive people of the right "to indulge in a little animal exuberance" because it annoys him. If he were running a beauty shop, a milk vending station, a lumber yard, or a steel mill he would find that the right of the pickets to bother him was inalienable and that it was his privilege to take it and like it. Possibly some day this concept of law will reach Capitol hill.

The women might ask for an injunction to restrain Senator Glass from being unconstitutionally bothered. He has no such right. They are not trying to make him pay an initiation fee for his membership in the senate or to collect dues from him. The women also might call on Mr. Justice Frankfurter for advice. He may know how to bring the law home to congress.

CLOWNING COURTS ARE NEVER FUNNY.

The continuing fight on Chicago handbooks is not without its lighter moments. The spectacle of that noble statesman and inveterate horse player, Sheriff O'Brien, scurrying by proxy over the length and breadth of the town in a vain search for a handbook is funny, even if it would be stretching the point to call it clean fun.

But the same whimsical view cannot be taken of the judicial proceedings, so-called, when the handbook operators appear in the Municipal court. The latest chapter was enacted before that eminent Kelly-Nash law lord, Judge Michael Tremko.

The prosecutor sought to place some of the customers found in a handbook on the witness stand. The obvious purpose was to place in formal evidence what every one present in the court knew—that the place was a gambling house and that the customers had been there to place bets. The handbook syndicate's lawyer objected, urging that because the police who had raided the place had not had a search warrant, the court could not question witnesses who had gone to the place voluntarily about what they had seen there. And Judge Tremko sustained this unique objection.

It would be inaccurate to say that this judicial clowning, to oblige the politico-criminal handbook mob, brings the Municipal court into disrepute. It is already in disrepute. It would even be straining a point to say that its disrepute is increased, because that is hardly possible. There is nothing to laugh at in that.

Editorial of the Day

"AMERICA FIRST."

[Indianapolis News.]

The organization in Indianapolis of a branch of the America First committee was inevitable. The only question about it is why the development was so long delayed. The adherents of this policy are convinced that the supporters of the lend-lease bill, and of the general administration plan, are bent on steering this country into the war as an active belligerent. They believe that this country should give all aid to Britain that its resources will provide after its own defense is assured, but they are pledged to work to keep this country out of Europe's wars.

The statement of the committee's national chairman, Gen. Robert E. Wood, that the administration has "sought to create a fear psychology" in this country is, unfortunately, completely supported by the record. The administration has harmonized its fear propaganda with its political plans. The President raised the war cry in 1937, when the administration-made economic collapse threatened his political strength. He played the fear game when he wanted the third term nomination. He subsided when he wanted votes to be reelected. Just prior to the opening of congress he sounded another warning of Nazi threat to this country. When the reaction indicated that the people were not as deeply into the war as he was, he quieted down again. He wanted the lend-lease bill. As soon as it is passed, his fear maneuver is due for another airing. The Nazi spring drive will help.

The Indianapolis America First group owes the community an obligation to stimulate discussion of the war issue. The committee is made up of able, fair minded, patriotic citizens. They can command attention. They can muster the community's opposition to arming the President with the power to plunge this half prepared country into a shooting part in the war.

A PLAIN TWO DOLLAR DOG.

"He saw a small white spitz dog which led him to a farmhouse": The Tribune, Feb. 28.

This has been a big year for spitzes in the news. They have been rescued from ice floes in the Chicago river; they have saved lives by barking fire alarms at their sleeping owners, and now they have given first aid in an airplane crash. Nevertheless the American Kennel club does not admit them to dog shows because they lack pedigrees.

Whenever a spitz gets its picture in the newspapers, it is invariably called a white spitz. This is a tautology which irks us slightly; nearly every spitz is white. Black ones exist, but they are about as rare as blue moons.

Common in this country for generations, a democratic dog that can be bought in puppyhood for $2, the spitz is really a Prussian blueblood. Its place of origin is along the German coast of the Baltic sea, especially in Pommern; therefore the breed of yapping lapdog which has been derived from spitz stock is called the Pomeranian.

"Spitz" is the German word for a sharp point, and the dog gets its name because of its pointed, erect ears, its sharp muzzle, its keen intelligence, and its quick temper. It has a bad reputation for snapping on slight provocation because its ancient nature, unmodified by breeders' tricks of mating, gives it an instinct for exclusiveness. A spitz does not take kindly to the caresses of strangers, but if not nagged in puppyhood it becomes as gentle a family dog as can be found.

Bob Becker tells us that the lowly spitz is coming up in the social world and that the American Kennel club is preparing to place the breed among the aristocracy. But we are sure that the pedigree-makers will never produce anything better or purer of strain than the Linemaster's series of $2 spitzes.

THE TRUE AMERICAN.

He hardly thought of battles Over There;
Those hoary grudges were not his affair.
Give him blue denim, not a khaki suit
With marching tactics and a crisp salute.
He had no time for hand grenade and gun
When acres of spring plowing must be done.
This was another world, a world apart,
These quiet fields whose slopes he knew by heart;
A brand new world his father's father won
Away from prairie grass and treeless sun.
Down by the pasture spring a gully hollowed
Still showed where buffaloes had wallowed.
Once in a while stone arrows came to light
Where they had lain since some primeval flight.
This was America, this land he farmed,
And he would die before an inch was harmed;
But he could not believe its boundary
Now lay three thousand miles across the sea!

How to Discover a Folk Song.

To explain my discovery of "The Range Cook's Song" [Feb. 24, 25, 26]:

In 1939 I took a 14 day pack trip thru the Wind River range of the high Rockies in Wyoming, the trip being one of the trail riders' expeditions arranged by the American Forestry association. We got off the Union Pacific at Cameron, Wyo., and went 150 miles by bus to the GP Bar ranch on the west side of the range, near Gannett peak. The trip included a big loop south from Gannett peak thru the highest, roughest part of the Wyoming Rockies.

Stanley Decker, owner of the ranch, had picked his wranglers rather carefully and there were two or three who knew a great many of the old-time cowboy songs. Some of them were so good that the girls in the party took down all the words and wrote down the music of the air, all of which I have in my files. To the best of my knowledge this cook's song is authentic range stuff and is sung only by the cook. Another of these songs, called "You Can't Change It," has a line in it about Grover Cleveland, which is indicative of their age.

I have never heard it sung on the radio, but then I do not listen to the radio a great deal. The tune is simple, as most range tunes are. Of the many songs they sang around the campfire at night, there were no other songs sung to this same tune.

When a King Came to Chicago.

The king of the Hawaiian islands, David Kalakua, visited Chicago in the administration of Mayor Harvey D. Colvin [1873-'76]. At the official reception Mayor Colvin tried to converse with Kalakua in the sign language and made quite a few gestures before he discovered that the Hawaiian monarch spoke English fluently.

THE BATTLE OF SOFIA.

Will he make the English peerage?
Will he be a belted Earle?
He was belted with a bottle;
But did old Georgie curl

And fold up like a sissy?
A thousand times no! no!
He cocked a real haymaker
And from the floor let go!

Berlin now says "No damage,"
But Yanks all claim a hit,
And give the time in seconds
Before that Nazi lit.

The battle of Sofia!
George fought it and George won;
For Yanks don't miss if they get set,
When all is said and done.

The Origin of Little Black Sambo.

Regarding the origin of Sambo [Feb. 25], often used as a comic first name for a Negro:

Spanish has the word "zambo," meaning knock-kneed. In Spanish America this word was applied to the children of Negro and Indian parents. By extension it has come to mean any Negro, especially a mulatto. Its ancestor is the Latin "scambus," referring to deformed or twisted legs. See the dictionary of the Royal Spanish academy.

THE PROPER CARE OF PLEURISY.

THE double-walled membrane which incloses the lungs—the pleural sac—makes breathing possible. Because no air lies between the layers the air cells can expand easily, as there is no resistance.

The importance of the pleura is called to our attention rather forcefully whenever it becomes inflamed. But, we ask—how can microbes reach this structure? The answer is that germs may travel via the blood stream to every region of the body. In the presence of any acute infection, characterized by fever, some organisms will be found in the circulation—at least for a few hours. In influenza, measles, quinsy, a sinus flareup or any other septic disorder, bacteria float out into the vital fluid, and are carried hither and yon.

Should infection strike these delicate surfaces, the onset may be sudden, with a stab in the chest—or, as it is called—"a stitch in the side." Sometimes only slight discomfort will be observed at first. Later the intensity will increase. Those who develop the malady slowly will exhibit a dry cough with little or no sputum. Within a few days, however, the victim may waken scarcely able to breathe because of the sense of compression and the deep, penetrating pangs. When that portion of the membrane which lies adjacent to the diaphragm is involved the pain is often referred to the abdomen, and it is this condition which so closely resembles appendicitis.

If the affected area is extensive, nature will do her best to separate the two folds by pouring out a considerable quantity of fluid. This explains why the distress may cease after an effusion has taken place, since the layers no longer can rub one another with every breath. This lake of liquid keeps the raw segments apart and prevents their rasping one another.

Healing is to be expected. If comfort can be provided thru strapping the chest, thus rendering the painful side immobile, recovery may ensue within a brief period. If fluid is detected—either by physical examination or by means of X-rays—and should it fail to absorb in due time, some mechanical method of removal may be resorted to.

Occasionally a sedative will be required during the acute phase, while a hot water bottle or heating pad will afford much relief. Under no circumstances should the patient leave his room until all of the watery excess has disappeared, particularly if tuberculosis is suspected. If this procedure is not adhered to we are far more likely to face the complication known as empyema, in which pus forms between these two membranes. This is all too common a sequel of bronchopneumonia, and it occurs more frequently in children and young adults.

If the inflammation subsides within a day or two, with the patient quiet and relaxed, little concern need be exhibited other than to check the lungs carefully by means of X-ray films to make certain that tuberculosis is not the cause. How often is this disorder to blame? As we have noted, almost any variety of organism may be the culprit. In one series, 7 out of 56 children were infected with the tubercle bacillus, and, in another, 7 in 49. A rather pessimistic observer points out that 30 per cent of 562 cases were subsequent victims of the "great white plague."

Too much care cannot be exercised in providing good nursing and complete rest. Furthermore, we should recall that there are many other sources of chest pain besides pleurisy. What to do depends clearly upon the prompt and accurate identification of the nature of the ailment.

TOO MUCH FACE.

R. E. writes: How can I reduce the size of my face? It is so full that every one thinks I weigh much more than I do.

BARRED FROM CITIZENSHIP.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Feb. 23.—This is not my country in the sense that I was born here. I cannot even legally adopt it because I belong to a race impliedly barred by the immigration laws from becoming citizens. However, I have permanently resided in this country for the last seven years, and as far as I know I may stay as long as I wish, but perhaps always as an alien.

Today I saw another of those movies I have been seeing quite often lately, of European refugees and immigrants coming into the United States. Almost invariably these pictures open with a comment on the unhappy state of affairs in Europe, followed by pictures of boatloads of wide-eyed, happy, eager immigrants, and then for a long moment we see that great, moving symbol of America, the Statue of Liberty. When I came into this country thru Puget sound there was no such awe inspiring sight to greet my eyes, but I remember vividly that as we approached land and the snow-capped mountains of America appeared in the distance, I stood alone on the deck that cold morning, and I was filled with emotion, and I said something like the following to myself:

"I came here of my own free will. America was not an escape to me. It was a dream I had cherished ever since I was small. I know I can carve my little existence there. I think that somewhere in that great land beyond the mountains I can find a little patch of earth for myself and my family and enjoy a new experience in living."

I knew enough American history, even before I left my native land, to add conviction to my hopes. And the last seven years have proved my expectations to be true. I have learned to love the free institutions of this country and to respect her way of life. I can honestly say that I have kept faith with America.

The foregoing is merely to bring out this fact: That altho these new immigrants from across the Atlantic are coming here with the same hopes, aspirations, and desires that I had when I came, and for precisely the same reasons [except one—that most of them were forced out of their countries by the war and other persecutions, while I left mine voluntarily], in another few years they will have become fully naturalized citizens, while I, for no apparent moral reason, will probably always remain an alien.

Political and spiritual oppression is not a monopoly of Europe. Nor is the craving for freedom inherent in only some classes of people. We who enter America at the other end would also like to see a Statue of Liberty there. Those of us who enjoy her privileges also wish to share the responsibilities of her citizens.

DONATO T. TEODORO.

STOLEN JEWELRY.

Champaign, Ill., Feb. 19.—Your last Sunday's paper headlined the fact that Gov. Green was in favor of revision of tax laws and had appointed a committee to make a study of that subject. In that regard he is exactly like preceding governors of this state. Each time the committee has recommended revisions of the laws which would require a constitutional amendment, and each time the amendment was defeated.

I think most people would favor an income tax law in Illinois if they could take credit on their income tax for the amount of taxes paid on their real or personal property. Downstate [in Champaign county, at least] we pay taxes on personal property.

If your assessor's office would have one of its many assistants merely make a record of the jewelry which from time to time is reported stolen, and check as to whether or not taxes had been paid on such articles during the preceding years, it would find hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of personal property which had never been scheduled for taxation. Of course, I realize the values given to the newspaper are perhaps for insurance purposes, but I wonder if your assessor ever has checked back to ascertain whether the jewels and other property mentioned as having been stolen were scheduled for taxation. In your last Sunday's paper one woman reported the loss of $15,000 in jewels. Were they ever listed on her personal property schedule?

TO AVOID STRIKES.

Chicago, Feb. 27.—Strikes and more strikes, payless pay days, suffering in families, local business at a standstill, industry paralyzed, defense work retarded, honest labor officials holding the bag, while a mere handful of wilful racketeers, agitators and all-out Reds reap the harvest. There is a remedy against these swift holdups. It's the cooling off process. Deprive the racketeers of their weapon. Minnesota has just such legislation, calling for a waiting time, then a period of mediation. Minnesota was once red with industrial strife. Now the Reds and goons have fled to more fertile fields. The legislation must not be confined to just defense industries but should be broad enough to fit all lines of effort. Minnesota is a good pattern.

RED HEADS.

Gary, Ind., Feb. 26.—Can any one explain why the young girls of today wear bandanas on their heads? They go around like Russian peasants. Is it an emblem of communism that seems to have gripped some of our young folk? The wearing of kerchiefs on the heads by only passably good looking girls makes them look worse, not better, and it certainly doesn't add to the beauty of the good looking girls. I wish they'd get a side view of their heads in the mirror. Won't some of the sensible girls not communistically inclined change the vogue? Maybe I'm wrong, but it bears looking into.

MRS. O. T.

BREAD.

Chicago, Feb. 27.—Aided by government standardizing, the millers, the bakers, and the vitamin makers promise us all a loaf of bread that will have a surcharge of the vitamins modern milling methods up to now have taken away from our daily bread.

While I like my bread, I for one refuse to get excited over the new ambrosia. As baking machinery is improved the bread that bakers mix with it gets progressively worse, and the current generation of Americans is so allergic to sliced white chunks of sawdust or plaster of Paris that one or more new varieties of the same won't make a difference.

Women write in to Doris Blake on how to get their man and hold him when they get him. Girls, take a hint: No husband fed on good homemade bread ever left home, or if he did, he hurried back as soon as he found out what kind of junk the bakers were dusting his throttle with. The more Uncle Sam trains bakers to bake soldiers and sailors and aviators some real bread the more our lads will volunteer to get something they can fasten their teeth into, and which will stick caressingly to their ribs. Bakers, take a hint: What we have a yen for is not more vitamins, but a decent loaf of bread.

BUSINESS RELATIONS.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I have employed a young woman in my beauty shop for a period of seven years at a salary of $25 a week. About two weeks before Christmas she left my employ after an ugly display of temper. Due to the fact that she was supporting a son and a widowed mother, I have continued paying her this salary even during the years when the volume of business did not warrant this expense.

To my great surprise I have noticed a sign displayed in a beauty shop about a block away from my place reading [1] "under new management: [2] B, formerly with V's beauty shop." Since we had no contract prohibiting her from opening a business of her own in my immediate vicinity, I cannot object to this. However, I do not feel that her conduct is ethical, and I strenuously object to the use of my name in her advertisment. Please advise me whether it would be possible to legally compel her to remove my name from her place of business.

V. J.

1. If in fact she is the new manager of a pre-existing business to which this expression would be understood to apply, then we see no objection. If she is starting a new business then this expression would convey the false meaning that it is your business under a new management, and such deceit could be stopped.

2. You cannot prevent her from telling the truth—to wit: that she was formerly in your employ.

17,392 Instructed at U. of I. in Year, Says Annual Report

Urbana, Ill., March 2 [Special].—Figures released by the University of Illinois show a total of 17,392 students received instruction from the institution during the present year. The figures include 714 persons who attended classes taught by regular staff members in several cities thruout the state, but do not include those enrolled in the correspondence courses.

The report, released annually on March 1, revealed a total resident enrollment for the Urbana-Champaign departments of 13,108 for the winter session and 1,226 in the Chicago departments—the colleges of medicine, dentistry, and pharmacy. Four thousand sixty-nine attended last summer session, at Urbana and Chicago, but only 2,344 were included in figures, for all others had attended one or both winter sessions.

There are 1,409 graduate students at Urbana and 200 at Chicago.

Lent Day by Day: A Serbian Church

[This is the first article of a series on little known churches of Chicago. Other such articles will appear in THE TRIBUNE on Mondays during Lent.]

An air of warmth pervaded the Serbian Orthodox church of the Holy Resurrection, 1905 West Schiller street, where groups of people stood [for there are no pews] talking quietly. The rich colors of the sanctuary were softened by the clouds of incense that drifted thru the church.

Presently, from behind the golden gates of the image screen thru which the altar was barely visible came the voice of the priest chanting in the strange oriental modes of the Greek liturgy, with a magnificent a cappella choir singing the antiphons.

Yesterday the Rt. Rev. Dionisije, bishop of the Serbian Orthodox church in the United States and Canada, celebrated holy requiem mysteries for a priest who had died in his native land. Majestic in long purple mantle and black veiled crown-like mitre, the bishop walked down the sanctuary steps and into the congregation. His eyes, above a full gray beard, wrinkled at the corners as he smiled faintly at two children who watched the procession with wide-eyed interest. The sermon, apparently, was in a Slavic tongue.

Under the leadership of the Very Reverend Peter O. Stiyachich, the Church of the Holy Resurrection has grown from a small chapel to one of the loveliest Serbian Orthodox churches in the country, and the choir of 30 mixed voices, known as the brancho radichevich, is said to be one of the finest organizations of its kind.

Quart a day for children, a pint for adults. Those are the quantities of milk we need in an "adequate" diet. It needn't all be taken by the glassful; some of it may be obtained in cooking. Custards and tapioca puddings are excellent supplementary sources of the daily milk supply.

Peppermint Tapioca.

[Serves four.

1 egg
2 cups milk
3 tablespoons quick cooking tapioca
⅛ teaspoon salt
½ cup crushed peppermint candy

Mix egg yolk with small amount of milk in the top of a double boiler. Add remaining milk, tapioca, salt, and candy. Place over rapidly boiling water and heat until scalded. Then cook five minutes, stirring frequently. Beat egg white until stiff. Fold a small amount of the tapioca into the egg white. Add to remaining pudding. Pour into sherbet glasses or dessert dishes and chill. Serve with this chocolate sauce:

CHOCOLATE SAUCE: Melt 1 square unsweetened chocolate in 3 tablespoons water over low heat, stirring until blended. Add ¼ cup sugar, a sprinkling of salt, and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens slightly. Add 1½ tablespoons butter and ¼ teaspoon vanilla.

Date Butterscotch Tapioca.

[Serves four.]

2½ tablespoons quick cooking tapioca
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 egg
2 cups milk
2 tablespoons butter
½ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
½ cup chopped dates

Combine tapioca, salt, egg yolk and milk in the top of a double boiler, and stir enough to mix egg yolk slightly. Bring to scalding point over boiling water, and cook for five minutes, stirring frequently. Remove from heat. Melt butter in a saucepan. Add sugar and cook until mixture bubbles. Add to tapioca and mix well. Fold a small amount of this mixture into the stiffly beaten egg white. Add to remaining tapioca mixture and blend. Fold in dates, chill and serve with cream.

Orange Ginger Tapioca.

[Serves six.]

⅓ cup quick cooking tapioca
⅓ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
3 thin strips orange peel
1 egg
2 cups milk
¾ cup orange juice
1½ tablespoons ginger sirup
2 tablespoons chopped preserved ginger
¾ cup heavy cream, whipped

Combine tapioca, sugar, salt, peel, egg yolk, and milk in the top of a double boiler, and stir to mix. Place over rapidly boiling water and bring to scalding point. Cook for five minutes, stirring frequently, then remove from heat and remove orange peel. Add juice, sirup, and ginger. Fold in stiffly beaten egg white. Chill and fold in whipped cream.

WOMEN'S AND MISS' COSTUMES.

A jacket costume and a jumper outfit comprise today's practical yet pretty patterns. As the sketch illustrates, dotted, contrasting silks lend special appeal to the jacket dress, while a striped cotton blouse keeps excellent company with a plain jumper that buttons down the side and has a rather large hip pocket.

Style No. 2849 is designed for sizes 12, 14, and 16, and 36, 38, and 40 inch bust measurements. Size 16 requires 4⅛ yards of 39 inch material for jacket and skirt, with 1¼ yards of contrasting for waist portion.

Style No. 2826 is designed for sizes 12, 14, and 16, and 36, 38, and 40 inch bust measurements. Size 16 requires 2⅞ yards of 39 inch material for jumper; 1½ yards for short sleeved blouse.

Each pattern costs ten cents.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

For 15 cents buy the spring Chicago Tribune book of Clotilde Fashions on sale at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower; 10 cents if ordered with a pattern. Address mail orders to the New York address above.

Cuddly Crocheted Lamb

BY ELLEN BRUCE.

In case there is no room for a live lamb or cuddly bunny in your Easter parade, a crocheted lamb is one suggestion which would serve as an excellent substitute. The appealing face is worked in single crochet, while the body is done in a crocheted loop stitch. This perfect perambulator companion is not difficult to create, once the worker has mastered the loop stitch and practiced on a sample of the pattern.

For instructions in crocheting the lamb, No. 400, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

'Maizie Was a Lady' Is More than Just Fun

"MAIZIE WAS A LADY."

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

There's more to this one than appears on the surface!

A deal of insight. A pitiful ken as to the lonesome underdog that cowers in the brashest and bravest.

For quite a stretch "Maizie Was a Lady" is a kidding little comedy drama about a "headless" lady in a carnival show who loses her job due to having her feet tickled the while she is on display being headless. You see—she topples—her headless headgear does likewise and the crowd roars: "Givvus our money back!"

The young gentleman who had done the tickling was very drunk. Also very rich. Also not such a bad sport. He offers to drive the lady back to New York—she having just two dimes in her purse. She refusing, not wishing to be an automobile wreck scare head in the morning papers. He says: "Well, just take my car and then leave it at the Waldorf Astoria garage. . . ." She starts driving, is picked up by a policeman who knows the car and thinks it's stolen, lands in jail where the morning after she is confronted by the tickler, who, by that time, doesn't remember a thing about what had happened the night before. . . . However, when she elucidates vague shadows reappear on his brain. He tells the judge he believes Maizie tells the truth. Says the judge:

"All right. You caused her to lose a twenty-five dollar a week job. Now, for two months YOU employ her at the same figger. . . ."

What to do? Bob is just a son of the idle rich who lives all alone with his sister and a houseful of servants. Mother is dead. Father's a perpetually absent clubman. . . . Well——

Maizie settles down in the Rawlston household as a maid and in this capacity proves herself tops as sleuth, guide, philosopher, and friend.

I DO like Ann Sothern! She can make the most incredible rôles seem credible—and she's such an all round lovable person! As Maizie she's a C-A-R-D!

Very splendid performances are contributed by Messrs. Ayres, C. Aubrey Smith, and Maureen O'Sullivan. All other players please and the picture had excellent direction and staging.

See you tomorrow.

Looking at Hollywood

By John Chapman

Diary of a Movie Correspondent.

Hollywood, Cal., March 2.—Sunday—In Palm Springs, and up early to enjoy the sunshine, of which there has been little over the hills in Hollywood, and in midmorning to watch Jack Benny rehearse his air show.

Monday—With Ted Larsen for a round of golf before heading back to town, but the place is crowded. The starter gives us a fishy eye and says we can have a 12:30 starting time, so we go to a driving range instead. . . . And so, back to the rain belt in time to catch the preview of Preston Sturges' "The Lady Eve," which is very pleasant and Barbara Stanwyck never looked lovelier.

Tuesday—A day of work and in the evening to stand around backstage at ASCAP'S Greek relief show, which is one of the best ever. . . . Arthur Schwartz says he has a lot of new songs, may sell some to the movies and use others for a Broadway musical. . . . Roly-Poly Mack Gordon says he has reduced 40 pounds. . . . Frances Langford says she's nervous. . . . Judy Garland's chief concern seems to be how her white dress is going to look—which is wonderful.

Wednesday—To Warner's for lunch with Gary Cooper, who, amid such well clad beauties as Merle Oberon and Bette Davis, looks incongruous in his hillbilly getup as Sergt. Alvin York.

Thursday—To R. K. O., where Robert Sisk and Samuel Spewack are huddling about Charles Laughton's next, "The Play's the Thing." They're trying to decide on a leading woman, and they may change the Molnar title. . . . And in the evening to the academy award party.

Friday—Dinner with Harold Lloyd, who'll put himself in an army comedy called "His Favorite Spy," and then to a sneak preview of Lloyd's first effort as a producer—"A Guy, a Girl and a Gob." The picture is a honey—friendly, hilarious, beautifully timed and full of sound Lloyd gags. Everybody's good in it, but George Murphy rates a special bow.

Saturday — Rain as usual, and heaven help the chumps who plan to go to the Santa Anita track. Heaven help, in fact, the chumps who have to live in sunny California during the "damp" spell.

Unique New Club Near Miami Enjoyed by Chicago Visitors

BY JUDITH CASS.

"MIAMI has a new club, the Quarterdeck, that really deserves to be called unique, for we doubt if there is another like it in the world," writes our roving Florida correspondent. "The clubhouse is built on 380 pilings sunk twelve feet into bedrock ten and one-half miles from the Miami dock. It is a simple place, tastefully decorated in nautical style and lives up to the motto over the entrance, 'Awa yfro mita ll.'

"A staff of 17 caters to the pleasure of the 300 members and their guests, and if a member chooses he may fish from the deck and then relax in the bamboo bar while the chef prepares the catch. The fisherman had better not whet his appetite by taking a swim, however, for the club has not put in a pool yet and the waters that surround the clubhouse are filled with barracuda. Commodore Edward D. Turner told us that there will be a pool by next year, tho.

"Commodore and Mrs. Turner live in a houseboat, the Shangri-La, that is tied up to the clubhouse. It is the most palatial houseboat we ever saw, with four sleeping rooms and two baths. It formerly belonged to Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney.

Commodore Credits Wife with Idea of Club.

"The commodore gives credit for the idea of the club to his wife. For several years they had one of eleven shacks that are built on pilings in the waters near the club, and it was because they enjoyed it so much that Mrs. Turner suggested that her husband start a club.

"The shacks really live up to their names, for they are just that, but they are substantial and provide ideal week-end retreats for their owners. Most of them have stood thru several small hurricanes, so Quarterdeck club members feel no fear that their attractive clubhouse will not survive whatever blows there are in these southern waters. The club is where Biscayne bay joins the Atlantic ocean.

"A boat takes members who do not have their own seagoing conveyances from the Miami dock at regular hours during the day. There are facilities for tying up sixteen boats of the club. Thorne Donnelley, a charter member and one of the board of governors, often goes down to the club from Hobe Sound, where he and Mrs. Donnelley have a beautiful house. They go in their small yacht, the Mako II., or in the Silver Wedding, their houseboat. Commander Eugene F. McDonald is another Chicagoan who makes good use of the club when he is at his winter home in Miami Beach."

Lecture, Teas, Benefit Make a Lively Monday.

That tired old label, "blue Monday," certainly doesn't apply today, for from the Chapel Guild of the Cenacle lecture this afternoon to the France Forever and the American Friends of China teas later in the afternoon, to a British war relief benefit tonight, this Monday is a busy one.

Maurice Leahy's discussion of "Ireland—Old and New" at 2:30 o'clock at the Ambassador is the first in a series of Lenten lectures given every year by the Chapel Guild. Mrs. Hempstead Washburne, president of the guild; Mrs. Henry Murphy, and Miss Margaret Moran will entertain Mr. Leahy at luncheon before his talk.

With the fashion world facing its first spring without any Parisian showings, it seems singularly appropriate that the France Forever group present a former Paris fashion correspondent as its speaker today. Until the German occupation Miss Marjorie Howard served as Paris correspondent for an American magazine. Her subject at today's tea in the Camellia house of the Drake hotel will be "Paris Under the German Occupation."

Some of those who have taken tables for Miss Howard's talk and the fashion show following are Mrs. Patrick A. Valentine, Mrs. Robert Gregory, Mrs. Arthur Byfield, Mrs. George Horton, Mrs. Walter Brewster, and Mrs. James Ward Thorne.

Gladys Swarthout to Sing John A. Carpenter Songs.

Miss Gladys Swarthout's concert at Orchestra hall tonight, being given by the Music Guild for the benefit of the British War Relief society, has a special Chicago angle, for Miss Swarthout will sing a group of songs by the Chicago composer, John Alden Carpenter. Mrs. Carpenter heads the women's division of the war relief work here.

The American Friends of China will hear of the industrial coöperative movement in free China at 4 o'clock in the Arts club. The speaker will be Miss Ida Pruitt, who is working with the American committee as China representative of the movement.

Miss Pruitt will speak on Chinese industrial coöperatives at 11 o'clock this morning at the College club. Mrs. D. H. Leavens and Miss Anna Louise Squire will be hostesses at luncheon following the talk.

The Arts club has cards out for the opening of three exhibitions next Friday from 4 to 6 o'clock. The artists are Charles Biederman, Alexandre Iacovleff, and Mané-Katz.

WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frances Keife of East Marquette road announce the marriage on Feb. 22 of their daughter, Elizabeth Maria, to John Benjamin Wheeler Jr. The former Miss Keife was graduated from St. Mary of the Woods college and is now studying at the Loyola School of Social Service. Mr. Wheeler, a graduate of the University of Notre Dame, is attending the Kent College of Law.

Models Today for France Forever

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Mrs. Nathaniel Duval, a graceful and pretty amateur model, will be a mannequin at a fashion show and tea the France Forever committee is giving this afternoon in the Camellia house at the Drake hotel. More fashions will be on view at a luncheon in the Drake ballroom tomorrow, when the Fashion Group gives its important annual showing.

Thru the LOOKING GLASS

A makeup thru which your own natural color, subtly glamorized, glows naturally and flatteringly is the newest development of the season. It's a grand contribution to the cause of the makeup that doesn't look like a makeup but does flattering things for any face.

There are women who can wear masklike foundations, or bases that film the skin opaquely. But we have always thought that the application of such preparations is a trick most of us will never master. And we've always been doubtful of the fashion value of such makeups.

The foundation is a liquid in three shades. It's applied with the fingers, blended in gently. It leaves the skin silken smooth and soft and it's the kind of prepowdering preparation that keeps your makeup fresh for hours. It's sheerer than the sheerest silk hose; the powder to be used with it is sheer, too.

There are seven shades in the powder. There are even lipstick and rouge in this new "let-your-own-beauty-shine-thru" family. These, too, have been keyed to the natural, transparent theme. The lipstick shades are beautiful; we would probably knock down a grandmother if she tried to steal our own "pink cyclamen" shade!

None of these new and flattering makeup aids is expensive. They're tempting—and they represent magic for the skin that lacks radiance.

Geographic Society Closes 'Story of Man' Lectures Tonight

Prof. Melville J. Herskovits, chairman of the department of anthropology at Northwestern university, will give the final lecture in a series, "The Story of Man," sponsored by the Geographic Society of Chicago, at 8:15 o'clock this evening at the Goodman theater. Prof. Herskovits will speak on "Peoples of West and North Africa." The lecture is open to the public. The speaker long has been interested in the relationship between new world and West African Negro cultures and has directed expeditions to West Africa, and to Dutch Guiana, Haiti, and Trinidad.

Huge Audience Hangs on Notes of Jan Kiepura

BY EDWARD BARRY.

The Polish tenor, Jan Kiepura, gave a recital at the Civic Opera house yesterday. A capacity audience hung on his every note.

The singer would spin out a phrase until the suspense became almost unbearable, and one could almost feel the house crying voicelessly for the note which would conclude and give point to what had preceded. Or Kiepura's voice would slowly mist over with that delicate gold which is one of his specialties, and the silence in the house would become a ponderable quality—shatterable by so little as the sound of a twitching ear.

Or the singer would whip up a bold rhythm and carry his listeners along with him as easily as if they had been chips on a torrent. Needless to say, each such effect was followed by volleys and thunders of applause.

In the course of a program made up mostly of Polish and Italian songs and arias from French and Italian operas, Mr. Kiepura proved that he knows how to use the projective power of music more skilfully than any but a handful of other living artists. One may quarrel often with his interpretations, one may deprecate his exaggerations, but there is no denying the splendor of his natural voice and the genuineness of his feeling for expressive nuance. These endowments, plus a sincerity which cannot be impugned, result in an extraordinarily infectious style of singing.

The recital was sponsored by the Polish Women's Alliance of America. Proceeds will go to the Paderewski fund for Polish relief.

Ralph Pierce, American pianist, made his Chicago debut in Kimball hall yesterday, playing the music of Scarlatti, Beethoven, Schumann, Wagner, and Liszt.

On the basis of the recital's first half [the Scarlatti sonatas and Beethoven's Sonata in E flat, opus 7] it may be said that Mr. Pierce often commands a rich and finely balanced tone and that his phrasing [especially in light, quick passages] is frequently very pat. On the other hand, his playing lacks coherence and momentum. The slow movement of the Beethoven fell completely apart, and sometimes seemed to stop dead right in the middle of a period. One may suspect that Mr. Pierce does not always make up his own mind fully about the organic character of the pieces he chooses to present. This, if true, would account for the tentative, improvisatory, unconvincing performance of the Beethoven.

Dr. Mary McConahy 101 Today; Started Medical Career at 47

Dr. Mary McConahy, oldest alumna of the University of Michigan, will observe her 101st birthday today in the Presbyterian home in Evanston, where she has lived since retiring from active practice 12 years ago.

Dr. McConahy was a pioneer among women in the medical profession. She entered the University of Michigan when she was 47 years old, after having been a country school teacher. She came to Chicago in 1890, and practiced in the "back of the yards" district for 38 years. She was born in Staten Island, N. Y.

Tortoise Shell a Flattering New Color for Coppertops

BY REA SEEGER.

A rush of colors makes the spring collections the best lure for any shopper's money. And one of the most unusual new colors is called "tortoise." It's the strong, stunning real tortoise shell shade, and how coppertops and lovely ladies with gray and silver coiffures will like its subtle flattery. Two piece suits, smart, slim one piece dresses, coats, blouses, hats, gloves, bags, and hosiery are all featured in this fascinating new promotion.

Snowy white collars and other bits of white accents are extraordinary telling contrasts. White shows up better against the dark tones of this new tortoise shell brown even better than against black or navy. It's startlingly smart, this white with tortoise. As another basic or background shade to take the place of black or blue, it can't be equaled. You'll find it in dinner dresses of clinging crêpes, in floating airy chiffon evening gowns. It's an arrestingly effective new shade with which to rejuvenate a tired winter wardrobe or your own bored spirits fed up with the usual blacks and blues.

Tortoise shell chiffon hosiery is especially interesting with navy blue or black footgear and should prove the season's biggest success as the ankle flattery for white summer shoes.

The gloves and bags are perfectly matched to tortoise shell brown street daytime and dancing sandals of the same shade. About the most complete color promotions and correctly affiliated costume accessory finds ever presented, are the exciting fashions flying this grand new color.

Slavic Music and Dancing Fete to Be Given March 16

(Picture on back page.)

Chicago's Slavic groups will present a Slavic-American music and dancing festival at the Civic Opera house on the afternoon and evening of Sunday, March 16. The program will include two stage spectacles, "Birth of Slavia" and "Hail, America," under the direction of Ivan Baran. Margarita Slaviansky will direct the music, and George Marchan will be master of ceremonies. Major parts of the program will be given by the Russian, Jugo-Slav, Ukrainian, Czecho-Slovak, and Polish groups.

INSTALMENT I.

The patrol boats wheeled from them in great arcs of foam and they knew they were clear of the last mine barrier and guard ship zone. Relief swept along the ship's rail in a marked ripple of lifting heads and voices; the Magnus was Swedish and neutral, but that had offered no manner of conviction in the matter of torpedoes and magnetic mines.

The estuary opened out, still, rippleless and brooding under the morning light. A thin April mist added a mealy blur to the sunlight. Great shapes rose out of it, insubstantial, enigmatic, fantastic; so that the Magnus seemed to nose her way toward her berth thru ranks of watching djinns.

Masts and ore conveyors, the hammer heads of monster cranes over the repair slips, the high cylinders of storage towers, all were as unreal as goblin manifestations of mist. The layer cake tower where, as Munter told Don Barron, English Tommies and American doughboys had been imprisoned during the last war loomed above the pearly cloud like a gnome's castle.

There was no wind. The flags that were everywhere drooped limply. There were more flags than Don Barron had ever seen in the port. Also they were tacked to the oddest places; the tops of derricks and water tanks or spread broadly across the flanks of freight sheds. Thousands of flags—and all swastikas.

Swastikas everywhere, men in uniforms everywhere despite the early hour. They stood in groups, they stood on guard; they seemed to strut even as they stood, especially when they were S. S. or S. A.

A tight column of field gray and steel helmets came grimly along the quays.

"Storm Troops," Don muttered. He noted how the men were weighted down with hand grenades while every 10th bore an automatic rifle.

"Plenty of that," came a mutter at his elbow. Capt. Hekking had come off the bridge to the little boat deck behind, where Barron stood. "Look half st'board—antiaircraft companies."

He spoke quietly, keeping his voice out of earshot of the river pilot. Barron's nerves began to tingle a little. Apart from a commonplace or two Hekking had ignored him during the trip—that was part of the plan. Now he was anxious and wanted to pass warnings. Even as he spoke he kept his eyes turned away to the long line of mechanized transport and the snake-barreled guns poking skyward.

The estuary had narrowed. The thronged docks were on each side of them now, and at them were more ships than Barron had ever seen there, and bigger ones. All were feverishly busy with swinging derricks and the scurrying of stevedores.

"Loading," Capt. Hekking muttered. "That's new. . . . An' loading against time, and not fancy goods, either."

"I thought the allied blockade, of iron ore especially, had just about smeared out this place," Don Barron said.

"It had—up to the last trip. Even this ain't trade. Looks like something big blowing up."

He squinted sideways. Being in on the secret of Barron's mission, he was wondering what difference, what extra risk this might mean. So did Don Barron. Sturgis Shrady's plan was based largely on its disarming simplicity. Just any complication could make a bad mess of it.

A terrierlike launch swirled alongside. A squarehead, undismayed by the incongruity of his black shirt and riding boots, stood like a cavalry admiral on its cramped foredeck. His flat, cold glance examined deliberately every face that hung over the Magnus' rail. As deliberately he dismissed the lot as so much useless foreign junk and fixed his glare on the bridge. His right arm scratched heaven in the party salute. His voice clanged orders.

The pilot cringed and his answering "Heil, Hitler!" was placating.

"They hate us seeing so much," Capt. Hekking mumbled.

The snappy blonde who was going as relief to the embassy called impudently: "Captain, what's that big who's-he? He bruises. I've never been stripped and beaten by a look before."

Hekking only frowned. Barron asked: "Port captain?"

"No, he's the lump of misery in the cockpit. The Nartsies have taken over his job." He put a bitter relish into his mispronunciation of Nazi, and added: "It don't look so good. I'm wondering if there's worse ahead—maybe they won't let transit passengers land."

Sturgis Shrady had been right about the discretion of this solid little Swede skipper. He had a shrewd sense of his moment. His words were a warning to Barron, but they were addressed to Munter, who had just drifted up.

As expected, Munter blew up. "That's nonsense, captain!" he blustered fussily. "I took passage with you expressly because you called here. I've just got to go ashore——"

"I do my best," Hekking said. "It may not lie with me."

"I'll have something to say about it, then," Munter puffed. "I've got a pull here and, by gink, I'll use it!"

Munter had trade and senatorial connections which he felt even the Nazis could not overlook. More, he knew how to make the most of himself. Standing behind the bristling little man Barron gathered Hekking's wink. He knew that the captain had called in this parading pomposity to help them.

He himself helped the good work along by saying, "If they don't let us land—what?"

"We go on to Stockholm as quick as possible."

"To hell with that!" Munter rapped. "I'll not stand for it! We're not at war with these people; they've got to treat us square."

"Our local office may have something arranged," Hekking offered. "Clearance and papers will certainly take some time."

That, Barron knew, was for him. Sturgis Shrady had arranged that all new orders, information, or changes of plan should be passed secretly thru the shipping company office when he reached Germany. Hekking was not only reminding him of this but almost warning him to be ready for readjustments. It did not increase Don Barron's comfort and yet it was not unexpected. It was because of such a possibility that Sturgis Shrady had chosen him.

"It's a good plan, a sound plan because it's a simple plan," the great Sturgis had said. "I don't see it going wrong, but if it does, why that's why I've picked on you, Don. Darmal's just got to be got out of Germany this way or some other. If by bad luck it has to be some other, you're the best man to do it."

Don Barron had wondered whether that was real knowledge of him or hope, or just a big man's way of getting what he wanted. Certainly he had been able to get Freuter and Loviagrin out of Austria when the Nazis marched in. But war hadn't been on then, the Gestapo not yet in its native working order, and neither had been wanted so badly as the Nazis seemed to want Darmal. Still it had been quite a good bit of work and he had thought he could do it again, while Sturgis Shrady had been quite sure.

"I've pledged my word and all the resources of the Sturgis Shrady group on getting Darmal out alive and safe. You know what that means, Don. It's got to be done—by you—or some one. Only you're the one man I trust to handle it, whatever arises. I know you won't let us down."

When Sturgis Shrady spoke like that, one did what he wanted. It was something more than a normal assignment. Behind it was the white hot idealism that was the reason for Sturgis Shrady's own and his paper's greatness. Perhaps it only meant that anxious relatives had persuaded him to save this Darmal from real danger in Germany. Perhaps there was something bigger behind it, a world shaking news scoop. Maybe it was a blend of both, for shrewdness and idealism often combined in Sturgis Shrady's mind. Whatever it was, when he spoke like that, looked at one with that exultance in his mild blue eyes, one did what he wanted no matter how strange and tough the doing. So it had been when he had said to Don Barron: "Get into Germany and get this man Darmal out alive!"

The Magnus was warping alongside her berth now. A flower bed of Nazi uniforms and port officers waiting for the gangplank, with one or two who looked human enough to have come from the shipping office. Don Barron went to his cabin as they began to swarm aboard.

Who Is This Girl?

By Helen Topping Miller

[Copyright 1941: By Helen Topping Miller.]

FINAL INSTALMENT.

"Would there be some lamb chops in your ice box, Mom?" Mac asked. "We haven't had any lunch."

"Good lands—somebody help me up! And run tell Lank Plume—tell him we won't be bothered with Hump Dane any more. He's been yelling in there, wanting to know what was going on for half an hour."

"We got company," remarked Bart. "Yonder comes somebody."

"It's the Abneys. Gee whiz, I didn't know Abney in those clothes." Mac went out to meet the approaching car, leading Storm by the hand.

"Looks like things is going to be calm around here a spell," Plume remarked. "I don't blame Mac for fighting for that girl. She sure improves the scenery around this place."

"You," snorted Mom, "keep your mind on sheep! And Mac ain't said yet he's staying, either."

"What'll you bet, Mom?"

"I'll bet you a haircut. Then I'll win either way. Lord knows you could use one."

Plume ran his hands over his scalp anxiously. "Gosh," he muttered, "and I didn't shave this morning either."

"Don't worry—she ain't going to waste any looks on an old nanny goat like you! Not if my eyesight's good, and I think it is. You get me another leaf for the table. I'll bet that Francis Abney ain't had a square meal in a week."

It was twilight—that time of golden light and silver mist that comes when summer relents briefly and returns to the high plains when the first storm of autumn has blown its fury away.

The sun had gone down behind the western mesas, painting the west with orange fire. Beatrice and Francis Abney had departed, and some of the serene happiness in Beatrice's face had remained like the perfume of a flower, blessing the air of San Mateo.

Storm and Dan McCullough walked the path down past the windmill and the fence where Mom's poinsettias drooped, frost blackened and spent. At the foot of the little rise Storm turned and looked back at the ranch house, sprawling, red roofed, its windows glinting in the dying light.

"Home!" she said softly. "I've never had a home before."

"It's yours, Storm," Mac said quietly, "and if Harp knows—he's glad."

Mac had been quiet all afternoon, Storm had noted. His face grave and thoughtful, his mouth a little set.

"I owe it to you, Mac," she said quickly, "but for you—I'd be Eleanor Dane. That letter would have been destroyed—they meant to destroy it—destroy everything that belonged to the past and to Harp—even this house—and San Mateo.

"That was a lucky accident, Storm. Just luck—for me. And now—my luck runs out!"

"Now——" her voice shook a little, "now it begins—our luck, Mac. O, Mac—can't you see—why must you be such a proud, stubborn—mule?"

"Don't say it, Storm!" his voice grated. "God knows I love you—I've been torn to pieces with it! And that's the reason I'm going—tomorrow! Because I've got no right. You're a rich woman. And I own a horse and a silver mounted saddle—and a thousand dollars!"

Storm looked off at the sky. Her mouth was impish, her eyes caught the gleam from the sky.

"We could use a thousand dollars right now—on San Mateo. I have about seven hundred left. We'll need a lot of things on this place. O, Mac—have I got to make love to you—have I got to do it all myself? Mac, if you go—I'll tear up those papers. I'll be Eleanor Dane—I will!"

"Storm—don't make it hard for me——"

"O, darling—shut up!"

Mom Terrell waddled thru the dusk.

"Mac," she shrilled, "telephone for you! Mac—it's a telegram from New York! Mac—you listening to me? It's about that Gertrude woman. She was married to a feller named Harry Jacobs. She wasn't never divorced—you hear me, Mac? Shucks!" snorted Mom, flouncing off toward the house again.

THE END.

Richard Speer Is Engaged to Eastern Girl

Announcement of the engagement of Miss Norma Elaine Chamberlain to Richard Donnelly Speer was made yesterday in Bloomfield, Conn., by her mother, Mrs. Charles Garland Chamberlain. Mr. Speer, son of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Speer of Evanston and Onekama, Mich., went east for the announcement party and will return home tomorrow.

Miss Chamberlain was graduated from Smith college and from the Katharine Gibbs school in Boston. Her fiancé was graduated from the Yale University School of Fine Arts after attending the University of Michigan. No date has been set for the wedding, for Mr. Speer leaves this week for Camp Forrest, Tenn., with the 131st infantry regiment of the 33d division, Illinois National Guard.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Wilsdon Amend of Evanston announce the engagement of their daughter, Jane, to Robert Alfred Nitschke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred E. Nitschke of Shaker Heights, a suburb of Cleveland, O.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Harrison of Chicago and Dyer, Ind., announce the engagement of their daughter, Peggy, to James H. Boyle Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Boyle of Drexel boulevard. The wedding is planned for April.

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Startsman of South Bend, Ind., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Bette Anne Tillman, to Lieut. Robert Paterson Hall, U. S. A., son of Lieut. Col. Milton W. Hall, United States Medical corps, and Mrs. Hall of Fort Sheridan. Mrs. Startsman and Mrs. Hall both were born in Chicago and lived on the north side for many years.

Miss Tillman will be graduated in June from Indiana university and the wedding will take place soon afterward. Lieut. Hall is a graduate of the New Mexico Military institute and attended the American Academy of Commercial Art. He has been appointed an instructor in the department of weapons and is stationed at the Cavalry school in Fort Riley, Kas.

Today's Features

ON W-G-N.

The Pageant of Melody, conducted by Henry Weber, is scheduled at 9:30 p. m. Attilio Baggiore, tenor, and Kathryn Witwer, soprano, will be the soloists. Miss Witwer will sing "Gavotte" from Massenet's "Manon." Baggiore will present "Parted" by Tosti. They will join the W-G-N mixed chorus to present Schubert's "Serenade."

The quiz program, Your Music I. Q., will be heard from 8:30 to 9 p. m. Avrum Denoff, violinist of the Chicago Civic orchestra; Sherman Edwards, member of the "New Pins and Needles" cast, and Charles S. Brearley Jr. of Riverside will be the experts.

At 7 p. m. Play Broadcast will feature Guy Savage, master of ceremonies; Bill Anson, Dorothy Roberts, and Marvin Mueller, who present the dramatic brain-teasers; June Baker discussing menus, and Harold Stokes and the W-G-N Dance orchestra.

Starting at 10:15 p. m. Dave Driscoll, Mutual's sportscaster, will describe the New York finals of the Golden Gloves bouts from Madison Square Garden. Driscoll will be assisted by Al Helfer.

The Ashland Avenue Hillbillies, a new morning program offering hillbilly tunes and patter, will be heard at 6:30 a. m.

March 3, 1941.

Universal Day—Spread a little sunshine with cheery words and a free expression of your affection.

March—For those who are in a three-year, this month is a six-month. Since three and six are harmonious numbers, this ought to be a fairly happy month with opportunity to express yourself thru the home and the family ties. There isn't as much responsibility to this six since it is in combination with the lighter three, so the accent on service will be thru the more pleasant ways of enjoying the comforts and beautiful things in the immediate surroundings. Perhaps you will have to think less about yourself and more about those dependent on you than in any other month this year, but it still should prove an agreeable period. Your duties will seem less like duties this month than as if you were having a six-month in another kind of year. It should be an excellent month for buying clothes and household furnishings.

Would you like to know what kind of a year 1941 will be for you? Send for your personal yearly, monthly, and daily guide.

U. S. President Unbiographied.

Now that a biography of Zachary Taylor has been published [Zachary Taylor, by Holman Hamilton], the only President of the United States whose biography has not been written is Benjamin Harrison. A campaign biography written by Lew Wallace is the only life of Harrison that has appeared. A formal biography is now being written, however.

Newman of the Books on Lincoln.

One of the interesting personalities of the city is Ralph G. Newman whose bookshop handles only books on Abraham Lincoln. He has handled upwards of 60,000 items on Lincoln and the civil war, and always has some 2,500 books on Lincoln on hand. It was Carl Sandburg who started Newman specializing on Lincoln books. Sandburg kept dropping into his little bookshop asking for Lincoln items, then other Lincoln and civil war authorities and fans began coming in. Newman saw there was enough demand for Lincoln material to keep a bookshop going, so he decided to specialize. Most of the late Gov. Horner's Lincoln library of 6,000 items, the finest Lincoln collection ever assembled, passed thru Newman's hands.

The rarest Lincoln item Newman has had in his shop is Chicago Tribune Tract No. 6, a life of Lincoln written in 1860 by John Locke Scripps and published on regular newsprint at 3 or 4 cents the copy. Newman recently sold a copy for $300. John Locke Scripps wrote what is said to be the most accurate of the early biographies of Lincoln.

Error.

A recent article on the great Lincoln biographer, Carl Sandburg, by Milton Mayer, The Commonest Man in the World, brought forth the statement from Sandburg that there was just one error in it. Mayer states that Sandburg has always eaten peanuts. Since Sandburg's fortunes have risen with the publishing of his Lincoln biography, he eats pecans.

NO MINIMUM OR COVER CHARGE

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1941: By Ely Culbertson.]

The perfection of a bid from a purely technical point of view is not the only criterion of its value. Even more important is the factor of usefulness. Consider the opening one no trump bid. Ever since 1935, the Culbertson system's requirements for this bid have been: A minimum of four and a maximum of five honor tricks in at least three suits, with a suit distribution of 4-3-3-3. There were certain "exceptions" under which a hand could be opened with one no trump with slightly different distribution and even with slightly less in the honor trick line, but by and large an opening no trump was a very strong hand with balanced distribution.

Technically, these requirements worked out beautifully with the series of responses and requirements for penalty doubles that were set up. Unfortunately, however, the comparative rarity of hands containing this high number of honor tricks with precise distribution seriously interfered with the effectiveness of the bid. It was not unusual for a player to go thru an entire session without having the opportunity to open any hand with one no trump. It was recognition of this fact that impelled me to lower the requirements for an opening no trump in the new Culbertson system. After all, no opening one bid has as great a potential defensive value as one no trump. Hence, it obviously was worthwhile to bring the bid within range of a greater number of hands.

Tomorrow I will give the exact requirements for a no trump bid in the new Culbertson system.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 club	1 spade	1 no trump	Pass
3 hearts	Pass	3 no trump	Pass
6 clubs	Pass	Pass	Pass

West's choice of opening lead was highly logical. It was a sure bet that North and South had the three outstanding aces, and almost as sure that the heart and club suits were solid. The only chance of defeating the contract, then, lay in winning two tricks in spades and/or diamonds.

South's bidding indicated at least ten cards in two suits, leaving him, at the most, three in spades and diamonds. The ace of diamonds would take care of one and the king of spades another, for North's no trump bid had marked him with the spade king.

West knew that if South had only one diamond and two spades he would lose only one spade trick. Thus he would make his contract if the assumption were correct that his own suits were solid. But if South had two diamonds and one spade, it was vital to knock out the ace of diamonds before the king of spades was established for the discard of a diamond.

So West led away from the "dangerous" diamond holding and thus defeated the contract. South had to win with the ace and West gleefully cashed the king of diamonds when South eventually led a spade.

LOU NOVIKOFF SIGNS WITH CUBS FOR $5,000

WATCH THESE OKLAHOMANS IN GOLDEN GLOVES!

Procter and Myers Mean Business.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Oklahoma City's two Golden Gloves fighters, Tom Procter and Vincent Myers, have a flying start over their out of town rivals in preparations for Friday night's semifinals and finals in the Stadium. Instead of squandering valuable days on the trip home after the Tournament of Champions, these two boys pitched their training camp right in the Illinois Athletic club gymnasium.

This is Procter's first visit to Chicago in quest of a Golden Gloves title but Myers is a veteran campaigner. Competing as a lightweight, he reached the quarter-finals in 1937. Last year he came up as a middleweight, but was forced to default in the quarter-finals because of a hand injury which he incurred in his third round bout.

They're Athletic Rivals.

The two boys are intercollegiate athletic rivals, Procter being a tackle on the football team of Murray State School of Agriculture at Tishomingo, Okla., and Myers being a half back for Cameron Agriculture college in Lawton, Okla.

Procter is all wrapped up in a study of one of the southwest's most pressing perennial problems — soil conservation. He is preparing to become an expert in this line and put his talents to use in his own part of the country, where sun and wind and drought work their way into conversations as easily as basketball does in Indiana or politics in Washington. He's due to graduate in midsemester, 1942.

Big Tom was born at Healdton, Okla., but his family now lives in Abilene, Tex., where his father is manager of one of General Motors' shops. Procter, who is a blond two hundred pounder standing over six feet, is of Irish extraction on his father's side. There is Indian blood on his mother's side of the family.

Reaches Heights Against Kinney.

Procter's quite an all around athlete at Murray college, being a member of the track and field squad as well as the football team. He puts the shot and runs the quarter mile.

Procter has been boxing for about two years. The high point of his career was his victory over Ragon Kinney in the quarter-finals of the Tournament of Champions. Despite comparative inexperience, Procter was not overawed by the prestige of his opponent, an International Golden Gloves star. He just whaled away and earned a decision over Kinney.

Myers, who is partly of German extraction and partly Indian, comes from Apache, Okla. His father and mother have a 400 acre farm near that town, planted in wheat, oats, and corn. Myers is a junior at Cameron and plans to give up boxing after this season to concentrate fully on his agricultural studies.

Myers Is a Veteran.

Myers, who is 20 years old, started boxing in 1935 at the Chilocco Indian school. In 1939, he won the Oklahoma A. A. U. welterweight championship. He has had about 200 bouts and has won all but nine.

Johnny Behr, athletic director of the Illinois Athletic club, is helping the two boys in their workouts for Friday's bouts. He has advised both to ease up because they are in perfect shape right now. Myers is two pounds under the middleweight limit.

Toward the middle of the week, the Golden Gloves fighters will begin reassembling in Chicago. Sixteen of the original 44 centers still have representatives left in the struggle.

Bob Feller May Get His Call to Army by Sept. 1

Cleveland, O., March 2 (AP).—A selective service official said tonight that Bob Feller, ace pitcher of the Cleveland Indians, may be called into the army by Sept. 1. Feller's draft board number is 2,857. There are 3,816 registrants in his district.

VISIT TO CAMP BRINGS ROOKIE $1,000 BOOST

Takes a Short Drill, Then Departs.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Avalon, Cal., March 2.—Lou Novikoff, slugger, tenor, harmonicist and muscular marvel, accepted Cub terms here this afternoon. He agreed to go to work after he had been offered $5,000, a $1,000 boost over the amount which had been the basis of the Russian strong boy's five day holdout.

Lou Novikoff.

He was in uniform for the closing minutes of today's workout. After the drill he returned to the mainland and will report here for full duty Tuesday.

Novikoff was an unannounced arrival on the noon boat. An hour after his arrival, he got in touch with Manager Jimmy Wilson at the Cub clubhouse, then went to the ball park, where he watched practice until Business Manager Jim Gallagher showed up.

Cubs Promise Raises.

Novikoff chatted with Gallagher, Gallagher chatted with Wilson and Gallagher again chatted with Novikoff. Then it was announced that Lou had agreed to end his holdout siege as the result of the boost in starting salary and the promise that he will get other boosts if he makes the grade.

Novikoff, who said on the failure of a conference when the Cubs arrived in Los Angeles last Wednesday morning "that he wasn't going to 'break his heart' for peanuts," seemed delighted he had come to an agreement.

He was accompanied by Joe Rodgers, who has been described as his discoverer, friend, agent, adviser and, recently, his employer on an oil well job.

Rodgers Innocent Bystander.

After Novikoff had come to terms Rodgers said he had not guided the 25 year old slugger in his holdout stand. Rodgers asserted he had told the young man early in the controversy that he was facing a problem that he would have to work out to his own satisfaction and happiness.

Manager Wilson, who has been doing a clever job of getting his Cubs outdoors in the intermittent periods of sunshine and indoors during the deluges, was so pleased with a nice afternoon following a bad morning today that he told all hands they'll be free to pick their own entertainment all day tomorrow, rain or shine.

Wednesday, weather permitting, the first of the intraclub games will be played. Skipper Jim says his pitchers are ready and ample to relay thru nine full innings. He hasn't decided on his starting lineups for the first camp encounter, but he probably will use regulars in support of rookie pitchers and vet pitchers supported by rookie fielders.

All-Star Plans Upset.

Wilson is not sure he'll take the exact squad requested by Connie Mack to play in the All-Star game in Hollywood a week from today. Claude Passeau was named, but Claude didn't get here until yesterday and Jim doesn't want to rush him. Novikoff also was designated.

The plan for Dean to pitch the first ball, with Wilson his catcher, still stands and Larry French and Lou Stringer, Los Angeles residents, will participate on the Pirate-Athletic-White Sox-Cub team against the Pacific Coast league all-stars.

Wisconsin Hails Its Big Ten Champions—1st in 23 Years!

BY WILFRID SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Madison, Wis., March 2.—Cheering crowds lingered late last evening in Capital square praising again the ability of Wisconsin's basketball team which earlier had won the Western conference championship by whipping Minnesota, 42 to 32.

Bud Foster.

Students and alumni, who moved from the packed lobbies and lounges of the Hotel Loraine to the jammed Blue room of the Park hotel, toasted Coach Bud Foster and his squad.

In the closing days of the campaign many fans had hoped to share the 1941 championship. Few visioned an undisputed title, the first since 1918. But by licking Indiana eight days ago and by last night's triumph over the quintet that had won from them in Minneapolis Jan. 6, the Badgers scaled the heights.

In this championship march the Badgers twice defeated Purdue, defending title holder, repeatedly proved their courage under fire, and established an all-time scoring mark for one season of 536 points. Indiana university, 1940 national collegiate champion, which will finish in second place, set the old mark of 519 points last season.

Often a Nibble, Never a Bite.

Wisconsin also may become the N. C. A. A. champion, for there should be no dispute over naming the Badgers to represent this territory in that tournament. Moreover, the committee in charge of the regionals, K. L. Wilson, Northwestern; George Keogan, Notre Dame, and Harold Olsen of Ohio State, may name Madison as the site of the eastern regional. The dates probably will be March 21 and 22.

While it has been 23 years since Wisconsin took an undisputed basketball title, the Badgers shared that honor in 1921, 1923 [Rollie Williams, now coach at Iowa, played on this team], 1924, 1929, and 1935. Bud Foster, who was born in Kansas and played high school basketball in Iowa, was a member of the 1929 team. He became head coach at Wisconsin in 1935.

England Is Keyman.

Capt. Gene Englund, senior center, who today leads the conference individual scoring with 162 points, was the key to both the attack and defense. Englund probably will lose the individual title, for Chicago's Capt. Joe Stampf, who plays tomorrow night against Indiana, trails him by only eight points. Englund's 162 points are within two of the total Bill Hapac made for Illinois last year to win the individual championship.

Englund, however, might be just another big center if he didn't have the reliable Johnny Kotz, Rhinelander sophomore, and Charley Epperson cutting from the corners and passing to him. Finally, Ted Strain's speed at guard and his dribbling were essential, since the Badgers' attack otherwise could have been tied up in midcourt. Fred Rehm, sophomore guard from Milwaukee, played the other guard effectively. Seldom figuring in point getting, Rehm had a hand in most plays and he was equal to Minnesota's speediest forwards.

BOSTON DEFEATS BLACKHAWKS, 4-3, BEFORE 17,659

Three Goal Rally Avails Chicagoans Nothing.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The haughty Boston Bruins skated onto the ice of the Chicago Stadium last night, as cocky as you might expect of a team whose season record includes a chain of twenty-three games without defeat. Two and a half hours later, they were glad to escape from the premises with a 4 to 3 triumph over a valiant Chicago Blackhawk team that had a crowd of 17,569 cheering them as tho they had won.

The sorely tried Hawks, one of the most severely hit squads in a league epidemic of injuries, last night put on one of the best shows of their careers. Trailing the talented Bruins by 3 to 0 for 36 minutes, they scored two goals in the last four minutes of the second period, and tied the score at 3 to 3 early in the third. Then young Roy Conacher, baby of the famed family of Canadian athletes, swept around the Hawks' defense with less than four minutes of regulation time remaining and beat Goalie Sam Lo Presti with a sharp angle shot from the left.

Bruins Tie Leafs.

The Bruins' victory enabled them to tie the Toronto Maple Leafs for first place in the league standings, each now boasting 56 points, while the Hawks' defeat prevented them from increasing their fifth place advantage over Montreal to four full games. The Hawks and Bruins conclude their season series tomorrow night in the Boston Garden. The Chicagoans still have a chance to come out even in their seasonal feud with the league champions. Thus far, the Bruins have won three, the Hawks two, and two games have been draws.

About the only individual Bruin who genuinely enjoyed last night's battle was William Cowley, the league's leading scorer. He ran his season point total to 80 by scoring the first Boston goal and assisting in the third. His 80 points leave him only seven points behind the all-time record, with six games yet to be played.

Brimsek Gets Jolt.

One Bostonian who lost his poise before the night was over was the erstwhile boy wonder, Goalie Frankie Brimsek. Francis, who obviously had designs on another shutout, departed with a face as red as the light that winked back of him thrice on goals by Sophomore Bob Carse and Freshmen Joe Papike and Red Mackay. Undoubtedly Brimsek's dreams will be peopled not only by the images of this threesome, but also by the fraternal combination of Doug and Max Bentley.

This latter twosome harried Frankie so much in the closing minutes that he nearly asked to be excused. The Brothers Bentley stood out on a team that played magnificent hockey in spite of injuries that had cost them the services of Earl Seibert before the game and forced the ailing Johnny Mariucci to take his turn last night.

DODGERS SHOW NO MERCY; WHIP GIANTS AGAIN, 6-2

Jurges Suffers Relapse; Mickey Owen Signs.

HAVANA, Cuba, March 2 (AP).—Bill Jurges, veteran shortstop, was on the bench today as the New York Giants submitted to the Dodgers, 6 to 2, for the third straight time. Jurges suffered a spell of dizziness in his hotel this morning, the first since he started spring training. The attack is the result of being beaned last season by Bucky Walters. The shortstop's setback again raised fears he may have to submit to an operation.

Mickey Owen, catcher obtained by the Dodgers from the Cardinals, came to terms today with Larry MacPhail, club president. It is believed he signed an $8,000 contract with a bonus clause. Score:

New York	020	000	000	2	6	4
Brooklyn	200	301	00*	6	8	0

McNAIR'S ANKLE INJURED.

Lakeland, Fla., March 2 (AP).—The Detroit Tigers opened their spring training here today and within two hours had acquired their first casualty when Eric [Boob] McNair, candidate for shortstop, turned an ankle in a leap for a throw.

McNair made his own way to the clubhouse and his injury was not believed serious. However, Manager Del Baker ordered an X-ray.

HENRICH REPORTS TO YANKEES.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 2 (AP).—The New York Yankees enjoyed a day of rest today—their last Sunday off until October—and welcomed Outfielders Tom Henrich and Mike Chartak into camp. This left holdout Joe DiMaggio and three other players absent on the eve of the first workout for the full squad. Frank Crosetti may arrive tomorrow, Bill Dickey is expected Wednesday and Red Ruffing about the end of the week after the completion of some dental work.

The only holdout besides DiMaggio is Joe Gordon, who has been here several days and is expected to sign momentarily.

FRISCH DEFIES THE RAIN.

San Bernardino, Cal., March 2 (AP).—Irked by rains which have fallen since last Friday, Manager Frankie Frisch of the Pittsburgh Pirates stormed today:

"My pitchers and catchers will work out if they have to wear bathing suits."

And they did. Wearing rubber overshoes instead of cleats, the batterymen practiced briefly, but in their regulation uniforms.

INDIAN REGULARS WIN.

Fort Myers, Fla., March 2 (AP).—The Indians' regulars, aided by Clarence Campbell's home run, took the first six inning practice game of the training season today from the Yannigans, 3 to 0. Bill Zuber and Joe Krakauskas collaborated on a two hit performance for the regulars.

ONLY CULLENBINE UNSIGNED.

San Antonio, Tex., March 2 (AP).—The signing of Don Heffner and Myril Hoag over the week-end reduced the St. Louis Browns' holdout ranks to one—Roy Cullenbine, who is expected in camp tomorrow. Second Baseman Heffner came to terms after a two hour conference with club officials Saturday night. Outfielder Hoag signed today and took part in a long workout.

CARDS USE NEW DEVICE.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 2 (AP).—The Cardinals had far more than the customary amount of batting practice here today. In addition to their lengthy morning and afternoon batting drills on the diamond, almost all of the 38 players in camp took turns in the batting cage against the new electric pitching machine.

Ed Oliver Must Report to Army Today—Or Else!

Wilmington, Del., March 2 (AP).—Golfer Ed Oliver must report tomorrow morning to be sent to the Trenton, N. J., induction center or take the consequences, draft board officials said tonight. Charles F. Kurtz, chairman, said a notice to Oliver was issued last Monday and declared Oliver will not receive another notification.

TOKLE SHATTERS SKI MARK WITH LEAP OF 288 FEET

Hyak, Wash., March 2 (AP).—Torger Tokle of New York bettered the North American Class A ski jumping record for the second time this season with a leap of 288 feet on the Olympian hill today.

Tokle, who broke a record at Leavenworth, Wash., earlier this season with a 273 foot jump, made his new record leap today during the National Ski Jumping championships before a crowd of 4,000.

Alf Engen of Salt Lake City, defending champion in the meet and Tokle's most persevering competitor this season, had leaps of 239 and 262 feet. Tokle's first jump was 266 feet.

MOVIES REVEAL HOW NOTRE DAME WILL DO IT NOW

Notre Dame, Ind., March 2 [Special].—Notre Dame's student body got an introduction to the Notre Dame system as expounded by the new Irish coach, Frank Leahy, at a special showing of the Boston college-Tennessee Sugar Bowl game movies today. Leahy, who coached the Eagles to 20 victories in 22 games in two seasons, was named head coach of football and athletic director recently, succeeding Elmer Layden, who resigned to become commissioner of the National Football league. Leahy is expected to report some time this week.

CHICAGO GIRL, 16, HAS PART IN ICE SHOW IN STADIUM

A 16 year old Chicago girl, protégée of Sonja Henie, will appear in the "It Happens on Ice" revue, beginning March 12 in the Stadium. She is Mary Jane Yoe of the south side. Arthur Wirtz of the Stadium and Miss Henie are producers of the show.

Miss Henie saw the Chicago girl skating in the Stadium during a meeting of the Ice club and on her recommendation was signed by Mr. Wirtz for a part in the new show, which will run thru March 23.

Mary Jane also has had experience in radio as an actress, singer and piano accordionist. She appears early in the ice revue in a "Curlilocks and Three Bears" skit, and also in other numbers.

Lincoln Park Casters Win Tribune Meet

BY BOB BECKER.

For five hours yesterday afternoon visitors to the International Sportsmen's show watched 22 teams of casters toss white plugs at floating targets. It was the final event of the nine day show which drew 400,000 outdoor fans to the International amphitheater and when it was all over the five-man team from the Lincoln Park Casting club was awarded the Chicago Tribune trophy for its score, 483 points of a possible 500.

The winning combination was Matt Wanzung, Walter Brewer, A. R. Westra, Clare Bryan, and Don Lebaron, who shot respective scores of 98, 98, 97, 96, and 94.

Gary Club is Second.

Second place trophy went to the Gary Anglers' club, winner of last year's team shoot. The Gary casters had an aggregate score of 481 put together by Chester Garnsey, 98; George Morrison, 97; Clark Pugh, 96; Sterling Shoemaker, 95, and Earl Garnsey, 95. The Jackson Park Casting club was third with 476, Gary Anglers' team No. 2 was fourth with 474, and the Creek Chub Casting club of Garrett, Ind., was fifth with 472.

A total of 1,100 casts was made, and teams from all Chicago clubs, as well as Waukesha, Wis.; Bloomington, Ill.; Elkhart, Ind., and Fort Wayne, Ind., competed.

Howard Chatt of the Sherman Park casting club won the dry fly event last night with a score of 95. Second place went to H. H. Smedley of Muskegon, Mich., who tallied 92. Four tied for third place with scores of 90. They were Arnold McDonald, E. A. Geschwind, Eddie Davis, and Frank Steele.

Cast for Fish Tonight.

Two former national champions and winners in all classes of the Tribune's casting tournament will engage in a novel contest tonight in the Hamilton hotel's indoor swimming pool. It will be stocked with 100 one-pound steel head trout. Those caught will be served to competitors. It will start at 7 p. m. The former champions are Frank Steele and Eddie Davis.

James D. Hamp of Alma, Mich., won the national trailer driving championship during the afternoon as a climax to the National Trailer show in the amphitheater. The contestants gave daily exhibitions of accuracy in parking. Howard Carr of Chicago was second, Ralph Morgan of Elkhart, Ind., was third, and Mary Jane Morgan, only woman trailer driver in the country, was fourth.

DEMARET, LITTLE ELIMINATED IN 4-BALL OPENER

Coral Gables, Fla., March 2 (AP).—Lawson Little, national open golf champion, and his partner, Jimmy Demaret, were eliminated today in the first round of the international four ball tournament. Their conquerors were Leonard Dodson of Springfield, Mo., and Willie Goggin of Miami, Fla. The score was 2 and 1.

In another upset, Henry Picard and Johnny Revolta, three times champions in the event, were beaten by Johnny Bulla and Lloyd Mangrum, 6 and 5. The 1940 winners, Craig Wood and Billy Burke, won from Denny Shute and E. J. [Dutch] Harrison, 2 up. Other results:

Clayton Heafner and Ed Oliver beat Jimmy Thomson and Harry Cooper, 1 up, 37 holes.

Gene Sarasen and Ben Hogan beat Johnny Farrell and Willie McFarlane, 1 up.

HIT-RUN AUTOIST GIVES UP; LEARNS OF DEATH, WEEPS

Husband Is Killed, Wife Injured by His Car.

A hit and run driver whose car killed George Floerke, 46 years old, a mechanical engineer, early yesterday near his home at 7958 Ingleside avenue and seriously injured Floerke's wife, Myrtle, 40, surrendered to police at the Grand Crossing station last night because, he said, his conscience troubled him.

The driver is Edward Petersen, 25, of 419 East 81st street, manager of a chain grocery. He told police he had driven on because he was not certain he had struck any one at 79th street and Ingleside avenue. Later, when he found the front of his car damaged, Petersen said he decided to give himself up. He wept when police told him Floerke had died of injuries.

Witnesses to the accident told police the driver, after running down the couple, stopped and looked back at his victims and then drove away. Floerke and his wife were taken to the Jackson Park hospital.

Killed by Hit Run Car.

Louis Delceredo, 55 years old, 357 Adams street, Glencoe, was killed early today by the car of a hit and run driver after he had been struck by another car on Glencoe road near Harbor street in Glencoe. The driver of the first car was Mrs. Ethel Carpenter, colored, of 397 Jefferson street, Glencoe.

Mrs. Marie Veleta, 36 years old, 7156 West 72d place, Nottingham Park, was killed early today when the car in which she was riding collided with another car at 71st place and Harlem avenue in Nottingham Park. The driver of the car in which Mrs. Veleta was a passenger was Edward Foy, 38, of 7154 West 72d place, Nottingham Park. The driver of the other car was John A. Foh, 36, of 7742 Elmgrove drive, Elmwood Park. His wife, Gladys, was injured. Nottingham Park is a subdivision south of Summit.

Mrs. Helen Branson, 20, of 1642 Sheridan avenue, Whiting, Ind., was burned to death in Hammond when an auto driven by her husband, Edward, 23, overturned after a tire blew out. Branson and another passenger, Joseph Payne, 27, of Miller, Ind., were burned and injured. The accident occurred in Calumet avenue a half mile south of the Sheffield avenue intersection.

Struck by Auto; Dies.

Harry Victor, 47, of 2708 Adams street, died in Martha Washington hospital of injuries suffered at Western and Berteau avenues when he was struck by an auto driven by William L. Dehmlow, 6525 North Artesian avenue.

Frank H. Nelson, 45, of 15428 Leclaire avenue, Oak Forest, died in Little Company of Mary hospital of injuries incurred when his car skidded into a tree at 89th street and Cicero avenue, Oak Lawn.

Thomas Banos, 27, of 825 North Mozart street, was fatally injured when he lost control of his car and it ran into a railroad embankment near Homan avenue in Grand avenue.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 142 persons had been killed in Cook county traffic since Jan. 1. Of these 112 died in Chicago, where 3,534 were injured in the same period.

RED HEADED GIRL JOINS RANKS OF PURSE GRABBERS

Police last night sought a young woman about 25 years old with red hair who snatched the purse of Mrs. Margaret Kerns, 71 years old, and then knocked her to the ground as she was walking near her home at 4413 Berkeley avenue. The purse contained five cents.

Mrs. Dora Petrol of 5945 South Albany avenue reported to police that two youths took her purse containing $17 as she was walking in the 6100 block on California avenue.

On the northwest side police sought four men riding in an automobile who stole the purses of three women. The victims and the amount they lost were Mrs. Elvera Ekstrom of 4702 Barry avenue, $2.50; Miss Vera Polak of 5721 Lawrence avenue, $1.25, and Mrs. M. Michilski of 5760 Lawrence avenue, $7 and a pair of eyeglasses.

HARVESTER-C.I.O. STRIKE PARLEY TO OPEN TODAY

Officials of the International Harvester company and leaders of the Farm Equipment Workers' union [C. I. O.] left yesterday for Washington, D. C., where they will confer today on the labor disputes which have thrown 12,600 Chicago employés of the company out of work. The groups, called together by Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins, will meet with Dr. John R. Steelman, head of the United States labor conciliation service.

American Federation of Labor workers at the closed McCormick plant notified Secretary Perkins yesterday they are not striking and asked that the plant be reopened. A. F. of L. leaders instructed their men to apply for unemployment compensation on the ground that C. I. O. violence closed the plant.

The company's tractor works also is closed, but striking C. I. O. workers there have sole bargaining rights.

The union is asking minimum wages of 75 cents an hour, elimination of piecework, seniority rights, and job protection for service men, as well as recognition as sole bargaining agent.

PARENTS OF TWO CHILD VICTIMS OF FIRE JAILED

La Porte, Ind., March 2 [Special].—Gerald Clancy, 24, and his wife, Beatrice, 22, whose two small sons were burned to death Feb. 20, were locked up at the La Porte county jail here last night on a charge of neglecting the children.

The children, Gerald Jr., 4, and Dickie, 2, had been left alone and locked in their cottage home at Poplar Beach, on Pine lake, three miles north of here, while their mother was shopping and their father was at work. Fire, caused by an overheated stove, trapped the children in the house.

The parents were arrested on the complaint of Dr. Russell Beck, coroner of La Porte county, who rendered a verdict at the children's inquest that they had died as the result of an unlawful act of neglect by the parents.

Mazurek and Sitkowski suffered internal injuries when a stairway collapsed. The others were injured in falls.

CLARA LAUGHLIN DIES; AUTHOR OF TRAVEL GUIDES

Known for "So You're Going" Series of Books.

Miss Clara Elizabeth Laughlin, travel expert and one of the country's best known writers of travel books, died early today in Presbyterian hospital after an illness of several weeks. She was 67 years old and lived at 2238 Lincoln Park West.

Miss Laughlin was the author of the widely read "So You're Going—" series of travel-guide books which she began in 1924 with the publication of "So You're Going to Paris." She started her writing career at the age of 18 as an editor and in 1902 published her first book, "Stories of Authors' Loves."

Honored by France.

In 1923 Miss Laughlin was made a chevalier of the Legion of Honor by the French government for her services as a writer during the world war. Recently she had been chairman of the Chicago committee of the organization "France Forever."

Miss Laughlin was the founder and director of the Clara Laughlin Travel services and was the editor of the travel magazine, "So You're Going News." She was a fellow of the American Geographical society and a former vice president of the American Historical society. She was the founder of the Cordon club, and a director of the Chicago chapter of the International P. E. N.

Attended Chicago School.

Altho she was born in New York, Miss Laughlin had spent most of her life in Chicago, where she was graduated from the old North Division High school. She leaves a brother, William, and two nieces, Miss Mary Laughlin and Miss Betty Laughlin of New York.

DAVID S. SCHAFF, EARLY FOOTBALL AUTHORITY, DIES

Winter Park, Fla., March 2 (AP).—Dr. David Schley Schaff, church historian and prominent in the early development of football in the United States, died today of a heart attack that followed complications from an infected foot.

Dr. Schaff introduced football to Yale in the form of Rugby, which he learned abroad, the game being later radically changed by Walter Camp into the forerunner of present day football.

Dr. Schaff was president of the first football association at Yale and picked the squad of 20 men for the Yale-Columbia game Nov. 16, 1872, which Yale won with three goals.

He was graduated from Yale in 1873 in a class of 114, of whom four still are living.

POLICE CURB CAR, SEIZE 4 ACCUSED OF A KIDNAPING

Policemen Charles Horn and Charles North of a Pekin station squad gave chase last night when they saw a car that aroused their suspicion at Princeton avenue and 24th street. When they forced the car to the curb, out sprang James Gilley, of 147 West Superior street, a waiter in a loop restaurant.

He said the four men still in the car had dragged him inside and robbed him of his watch and ring. The men denied this, asserting that Gilley had asked them for a ride. The police found the watch and ring in the car and arrested the occupants: Raymond Bills, 2629 Shields avenue; Angelo Capinegro, 2627 Princeton avenue, Nick Vespi, 2615 Shields avenue, and Philip Cryler, 2518 Wentworth avenue. The prisoners had no guns.

NEWS OF FINANCE AND COMMERCE

RESERVE BOARD REBUFFS JONES IN BANK FIGHT

Choice of President Up to Directors.

BY LELAND FORRESTER.

The federal reserve board in Washington has rebuffed the effort of Jesse Jones, federal loan administrator, to dictate the selection of a new president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago and thereby subject the bank to domination by the Reconstruction Finance corporation, it was learned yesterday.

The board issued a "no election" ruling on the deadlock of last Thursday when the Chicago bank's directors split 5 to 4 on the presidency and one group claimed election of Emil Schram, a "Jones man" and RFC chairman. The group claimed the election thru a fifth vote delegated to it by an absent director.

Choice Up to Directors.

In declaring "no election," the reserve board put the choice back in the hands of the directors of the Chicago bank. Had the Washington board accepted the delegated fifth vote, which was challenged by opponents of Schram, Jones' candidate would have taken over the nation's second largest reserve bank.

No date for another meeting to consider election of a president has been set, but action is expected this week.

The Washington board is known to have taken a determined stand in insisting that the Chicago bank shall not be subjected to RFC domination and that the responsibility rests with the directors of the bank to choose a new president without regard to political pressure.

Other States Join Fight.

Meantime banking associations in the other states constituting the reserve district prepared to array themselves with the Illinois Bankers association and the federal reserve board in the fight to head off the Jones Jones forces.

"As a result of the fight over last Thursday's election the issue has been brought out into the open," one banker said. "All that the bankers in the district are demanding is that the new president shall be a man from within the district whose background is not political.

"The Washington board is not pressing the candidacy of any individual, but is interested in seeing that the work of the whole system is carried on free of political control."

The Illinois Bankers association and its Chicago district association were the first banker organizations to join the fight against Jones' attempt to put the RFC chairman into the bank presidency.

Appeal to Reserve Board.

These groups sent telegrams to the reserve board Saturday urging it to take steps to see that no political interference in the Chicago choice should be allowed. Yesterday the state association's secretary, Harry C. Hausman, said organizations in other states were preparing to take up the issue.

"Bankers associations in the states which make up the seventh district all are alert to the situation and are determined to coöperate in an effort to see that no outside influences are brought to bear on the selection of the new president," Hausman said.

"Neither the associations nor the federal reserve board in Washington want the reserve system to get mixed up in politics. No personalities are involved in this fight, but only the issue of keeping the reserve banks free of political pressure."

Four Vote for Young.

At the election Thursday four of the directors voted for Clifford S. Young, a vice president of the bank, who since has been designated acting head of the bank until action is taken on selection of a president. George J. Schaller, who had been head of the bank since 1934, retired when his term expired Friday.

Walter J. Cummings, chairman of the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company, who is one of the Chicago reserve bank's directors and is a longtime friend of Jones, returned to Chicago from Washington. He said he had no statement to make concerning the candidacy of Schram. However, it was reported in Washington that Schram had said he still was in the race.

Threat to Public Confidence.

One of the chief concerns of bankers, as expressed in telegrams to the reserve board, is the danger that public and business confidence in the reserve system would suffer if the system is dragged into politics. One banker said that if the RFC gains sway over the Chicago bank, some member banks might prefer to get out of the system and become state banks to escape RFC domination.

Bankers also expressed fear that the RFC's already vast powers may be extended. They asserted that the RFC is practicallly pegging interest rates thruout the country by stepping in to underbid private underwriters from time to time when large issues of securities are being arranged.

OFFER NEW PLAN TO AVERT TIEUP IN ARMS WORK

New York, March 2 [Special].—Establishment of a national armament labor party policy committee, with its chairman appointed by President Roosevelt and the other members selected in equal numbers by the national organizations of labor and management, was recommended today by a special committee of the Twentieth Century Fund survey of preparedness labor problems.

Under the proposal the new national group would advise the Office of Production Management on all questions of labor policy affecting the production of military materials, would endeavor to formulate a national wage policy for the "emergency" period, establish a subsidiary network of management-worker committees in all defense industries, foster industrial peace, and match the production facilities and the labor supply of industry to armaments requirements.

The study also urges the setting up of a federal emergency mediation board to supplement the service of the United States conciliation service and the National Defense Advisory commission.

EARNED INCOME.

I operate a small business. I receive no salary. How do I determine my earned income credit for income tax purposes?—J. F.

Answer: If part of your income is derived from a business in which your personal efforts are a material factor, you are allowed a credit based upon a reasonable compensation for your services in the business. Not more than 20 per cent of your net profits from the business, however, can be considered earned income if capital is a material income producing factor. If you are engaged in a business or profession in which capital is not an income producing factor, then your entire net profits may be taken as earned income.

Earned income includes wages, salaries, commissions, professional fees, and other compensation for personal services. A credit of 10 per cent of earned net income, but not exceeding 10 per cent of your entire net income, is allowed. Earned net income represents earned income after allowable deductions such as traveling expenses, union dues, etc., have been made.

All net income up to $3,000 is considered earned, but the maximum amount which may be treated as earned income is $14,000.

NATIONAL INCOME.

What was the national income last year and how did it compare with that of 1929?—E. A.

Answer: The national income [income payments received by individuals] of the United States in 1940 was estimated by the department of commence to be $74,300,000,000, a gain of 6 per cent over that of 1939. This total was the highest since 1930 and about 10 per cent lower than the $82,000,000,000 estimated for 1929.

ALMS TO THE POOR.

In my business I give handouts to beggars and others which amount to more than $100 for the year. Can I take a deduction for these donations in my income tax return?—H. D.

Answer: Such contributions are gifts and are not deductible if they are made to individuals or unorganized groups, no matter how deserving.

INSTALMENT INTEREST.

I bought a car on the instalment plan last year. Can I deduct the amount I paid in interest to the finance company?—M. W.

Answer: The interest paid to the finance company on an instalment purchase can be deducted in your income tax return if the amount of interest in each instalment is stated definitely in your contract with the company.

BANK DEPOSITS NEAR 36 BILLION; NEW HIGH MARK

Washington, D. C., March 2 (AP).—Deposits in American banks totaled $35,852,424,000 on Dec. 31, the highest ever recorded, Preston Delano, controler of the currency, announced today. The total, reported by 5,150 banks, was an increase of $2,778,017,000 since last June, and $4,239,432,000 since Dec. 30, 1939.

Total assets were placed at $39,733,962,000, a gain of $2,848,882,000 since June and $4,414,705,000 since December, 1939.

The banks had $9,752,605,000 invested in federal government obligations, an increase of $641,379,000 since June.

RECOMMEND 357 MILLION FLOOD CONTROL WORK

Washington, D. C., March 2 (AP).—Army engineers reported to congress today that $357,793,925 could be "profitably expended" in the next fiscal year for flood control and rivers and harbors improvements.

Largest of the projected new flood control expenditures was $18,331,600 for the Los Angeles drainage area, followed by $15,360,200 for the new $50,000,000 Denison reservoir in Texas and Oklahoma.

Pennsylvania Railroad's Tax Bill Up 9½ Pct.

Taxes levied against the Pennsylvania railroad in 1940 rose 9½ per cent over the 1939 total, to $43,885,188, M. W. Clement, president, reported yesterday in his annual statement to shareholders. He attributed the upturn to increases in federal income, unemployment insurance, and railroad retirement taxes.

The tax bill, he said, "required about 9.2 cents out of each dollar of operating revenues, or $3.35 a share on the capital stock." The railroad, he said, "is the only form of transportation that provides its own right of way and terminals, pays for their maintenance and, in addition, pays taxes for the support of government." Net railway operating income, amounting to $86,499,486, represented a return of 3.27 per cent upon the investment in road and equipment.

Can Meet All Demands, He Says.

Clement assured stockholders the nation's railroads will be able to meet the demands of arms program traffic and still maintain normal operations.

"They are better prepared today than in 1939, when they met, without congestion or delay, one of the sharpest upturns in industrial activity ever experienced," he said.

He announced that last year's passenger revenues increased $516,397 to a total of $71,623,219 despite fare reductions.

The Pennsylvania's 1940 net income, as previously reported, was $46,238,250, an increase of $14,205,725 over 1939.

American Tobacco company had 1940 net earnings of $28,311,783, compared with $26,427,934 in 1939. Profit equaled $5.55 a share of common and common B stock against $5.11 in 1939. George W. Hill, president, was paid $456,415 in the year, of which he received $336,415.36 as "incentive compensation."

American Metal Has Gain.

American Metal Co., Ltd., reported 1940 net income of $3,689,957, equal after preferred dividend requirements to $2.69 a common share. Net income was $2,994,740, or $2.12 a share in 1939.

FREEZING OF ALL FOREIGN FUNDS BELIEVED LIKELY

Washington, D. C., March 2 (AP).—A general order, restricting the removal of all foreign funds—including those of England and the axis—from the United States, seemed imminent to some officials today as the administration delayed "freezing" the funds of Bulgaria.

Customarily, the administration has "frozen" funds of axis occupied countries at the first official notice of the presence of axis troops. But today, altho German occupation of Bulgaria had become a known fact, no order had been signed by President Roosevelt.

Well informed officials said it was possible that the White House may take no separate action on Bulgaria, but instead issue a general order.

FASHION GROUP TO SHOW CHICAGO MADE APPAREL

The Fashion Group for the first time at the organization's spring show will feature a separate display of Chicago merchandise, it was announced yesterday. The annual spring show will be held tomorrow in the Drake hotel.

Percy Wilson, managing director of the Merchandise Mart, said the separate showing of Chicago-made goods was the first significant progress in the 1941 program to develop Chicago's women's apparel industry.

Leaders in the apparel industry, who recently recommended a program for developing Chicago as the "great central market" reported that several manufacturers have increased their national advertising budgets as much as 75 per cent.

CANADA PLACES OIL UNDER FULL PRICE CONTROL

OTTAWA, Ont., March 2 (AP).—Power to fix maximum and minimum prices at which petroleum products may be sold in any part of Canada was confered on G. R. Cottrelle, oil controler of Toronto, in regulations published tonight.

In the original regulations the controler was empowered only to fix "maximum prices and maximum markups."

DECLARES U. S. OIL AMPLE FOR ENTIRE WORLD

Henry Dawes Firm's Profits Rise.

By opening wider the valves on existing wells, the United States oil industry would be able to supply not only this nation's normal and military demands for petroleum products, but the requirements of the entire world, Henry M. Dawes, president of the Pure Oil company, Chicago, said yesterday in his annual report to stockholders.

Henry M. Dawes.

Reporting that his company was "particularly fortunate" in its available supply of crude oil, Dawes said the organization could produce several times its present output should conditions warrant, that other producers were in position to increase their flow of products materially, and that the industry's total reserves were the largest in history.

Earns $1.21 a Share.

The report showed Pure Oil's 1940 net earnings were $8,718,057, equivalent to $1.21 a share on the common stock after preferred dividends. The 1939 earnings were $8,290,418, or $1.11 on the common. The company during the year added $3,822,831 to its earned surplus, increasing the figure to $26,397,206 as of Dec. 31.

Dawes reported a new high record in the company's crude oil production of 23,674,000 barrels, an increase of 1,431,000 barrels over the 1939 level. The former high was 22,930,000 barrels in 1935. The company is producing oil in 10 states.

Development of the Cumberland field in Oklahoma, where 19 wells have been completed, has materially increased the company's recoverable crude reserves, he said. Retail gasoline sales for the year totaled 659 million gallons and were 5 per cent above the 1939 volume. The increase reflects concentration in sales, Dawes said, and followed the company's withdrawal from retail marketing in several eastern states in the summer of 1939.

Carrying Big Tax Load.

Estimating the industry's annual tax load at 1 billion 500 million dollars, Dawes said, "surely no one could contend that the industry was not bearing its share of the tax burden."

In commenting on recurrent reports of proposed federal regulation of the industry, he said:

"Because there are some in high places who wish to discuss and bring about certain internal detail adjustments, it would not be wise at this time to jump at the conclusion that in a time of emergency they intend to throw monkey wrenches into a satisfactorily operating machine.

"If the industry were not discharging all of its public responsibilities in a superlative way; if there were the slightest question of its being able to meet emergency adjustments immediately; if either in price or in convenience of service it could be criticized, then there would be reason for apprehension which today seems hardly justified."

STEEL DEMAND MAY DECREASE, SURVEY SHOWS

Cleveland, O., March 2 (AP).—Altho steel sales "are around 150 per cent" of the industry's capacity, "there is possibility of an impending falling off in orders," the magazine Steel reported today.

Consumers have built up inventories despite precautions against oversales on the part of producers, the review said. Consumers, holding larger inventories, and observing shipments from mills coming thru fairly smoothly, should henceforth be less insistent to buy, it said.

The magazine's index of production gained two points last week to 96½ per cent of estimated capacity.

FARMER AID PROGRAM IS DECLARED SNARLED IN MAZE OF AGENCIES

Washington, D. C., March 2 (AP).—A declaration that so many separate government agencies deal with the farmer and his problems that they cause "unnecessary duplication of effort, waste, extravagance, and confusion" came today from the American Farm Bureau federation.

Edward A. O'Neal, president of the farm bureau, proposed that many existing agencies be consolidated and a five-man, nonpartisan board be created to coördinate the whole farm program.

Listing more than a dozen agencies or divisions dealing with farm programs, O'Neal said they employed 33,558 "permanent employés" last year and spent $99,293,429 on administrative costs.

Most administrative costs, he asserted, were deducted from funds which otherwise would go to farmers as benefit payments, loans, or grants.

More of British Owned U. S. Shares Liquidated

New York, March 2 (AP).—T. J. C. Gifford, special agent of the British treasury, today reported British holdings of several more security issues have been fully liquidated. Included in the list were Marshall Field & Co. shares.

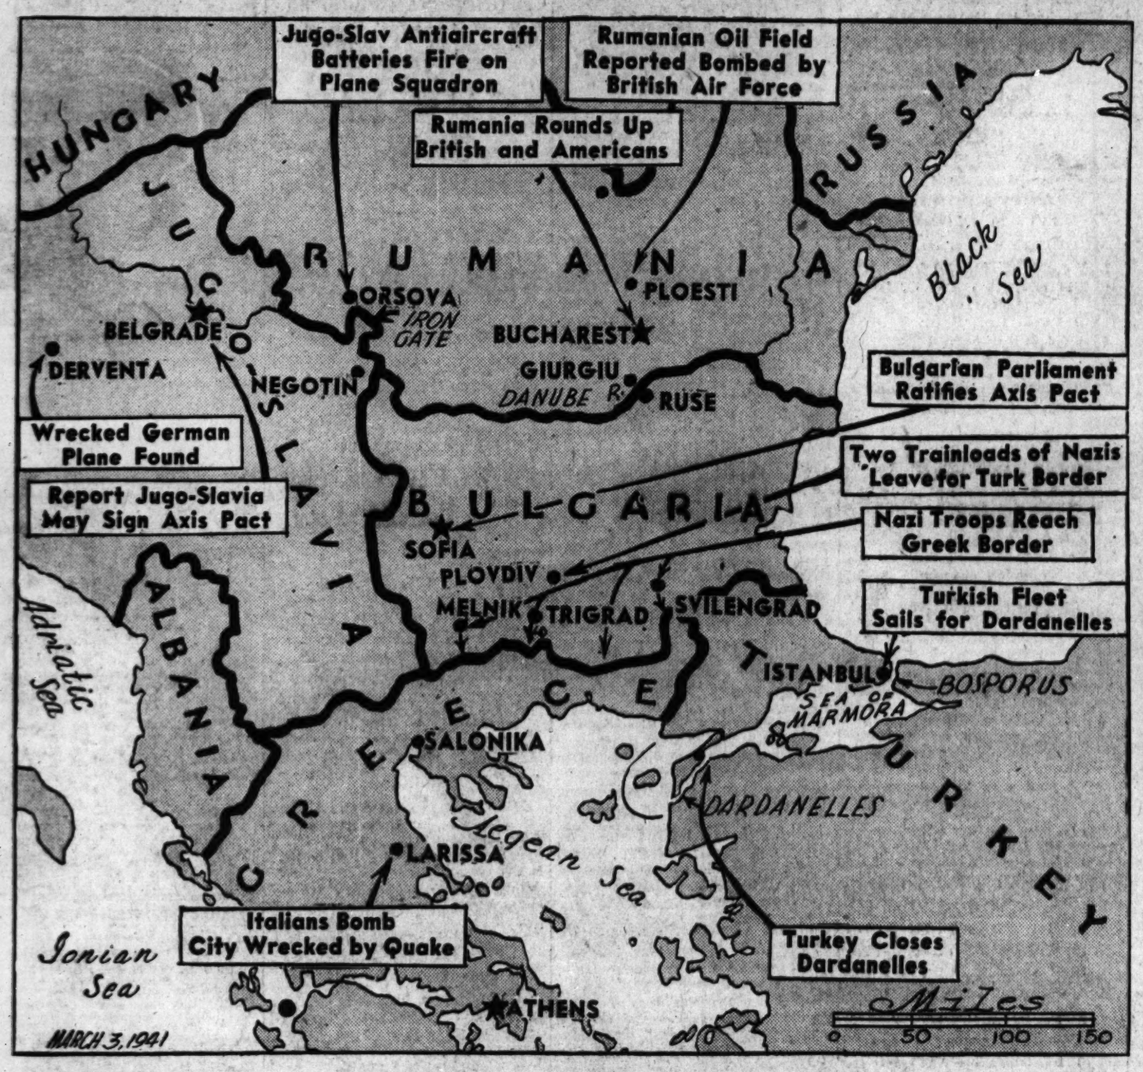
Turkey Closes Dardanelles After Germans Penetrate Bulgaria—Nazi Troops Reach Greek Border

[Associated Press Wirephoto via radio from Berlin.]

Seven minute ceremony that joined Bulgaria to the Rome-Berlin axis on Saturday. The picture was taken in Belvedere palace at Vienna, Austria, as the diplomats signed the axis pact. Bulgarian Premier Bogdan Philov is signing for his country, Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop for Germany, and Foreign Minister Galeazzo Ciano for Italy.



The Balkans were in a turmoil yesterday after Bulgaria's adhesion to the axis had allowed German soldiers to reach the Greek border. Turkey closed the Dardanelles and moved fleet, and British planes are reported to have bombed Rumanian oil fields.
